Gov. Knight Called Into Freeway Hassle

Gas War Hits; Prices Plummet!

Regular Gas Now 25.9 Per Gallon; Will Drop More

War hit central Contra Costa this week in the form of cascading gasoline prices. Regular gas is selling as low as 25.9 in 'cut rate' gas stations and ethyl brand gas is going for 29.9 cents per gallon.

The gas war hit early in the week as it spread from Richmond and San Pablo. Reports of local gas station owners claim that the gas war is expected to last until after election time. Companies and areas which have never before participated in a gas war are now in the middle of the battle.

ORINDA, LAFAYETTE, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill joined in the fracas on succeeding days since the outbreak in central Contra Costa October 18.

No meetings of operators or manufactures are in sight, according to one local operator. "Somebody always gets hurt in one of these wars and it seems as though this one will last a while," he said.

Just what caused the war can not be determined, one Pleasant Hill operator said. Another operator from said, the major companies seem to be dumping surplus stocks on the market. Still another from Walnut Creek felt that Proposition 4 was the reason for the drastic reduction in prices and the participation of all the major companies.

"THE CUT RATE outfits always start these things up in Richmond," said one Lafayette operator, while other Lafayette operator said the war began in San Francisco about a month ago as did another Walnut Creek operator.

Just a week ago most proces for gasoline in the area were 35.9 cents per gallon for ethyl and 31.9 for regular type gasoline.

A Pleasant Hill major company operator said, "Don't know when it will end but better come by and fill up before it does."

Prices of oil and all other products have remained the same and all gasoline prices still include nine cents federal and state taxes.

Happy Valley Rezoning Study Follows Hearing

Under advisement by the County Planning Commission, following a two-hour public hearing Tuesday night, is the application of four property owners for rezoning of a 262-acre area of Happy Valley.

The commission, on motion of Commissioner Arthur Young, seconded by Commissioner Robert Elliott, unanimously voted to close the hearing and take the long-pending controversial matter under advisement.

No date was scheduled for rendering a decision, Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith said yesterday.

The applicants are Dahlia C. Bruzzone, Emil J. Ghiglione and C. L. and Henriette Spear.

THEIR APPLICATION is for rezoning from Suburban (one-acre minimum lot-sizes) to Single Family Residential District-B (approximately one-third acre minimum lot-sizes).

Tuesday's hearing followed by one week the adoption of the Lafayette master plan, including—over the strenuous objection of the Lafayette Improvement Association—designation of Happy Valley as "low density" (0 to 3 families per net acre).

At the hearing Attorney Marion Plant acted as spokesman for the Happy Valley Improvement Association.

SUBMITTING a list of 80 families owning property in the area, who are opposed to the application, Plant urged retention of the one-acre standard.

He recalled that the dispute over Happy Valley Dell a couple of years ago ended in agreement to have commercial-acre lots (extending to the center of the road) in that subdivision.

Plant maintained that there has been no change in the area to warrant a change from the one-acre standard.

WILLIAM ZION, Lafayette Improvement Association planning committee chairman, informed the commission that the Lafayette Improvement Association concurs with the Happy Valley group in opposition to reduction of the one-acre limitation.

William Strauss of Happy Valley Dell, who stated he represented the people of that section, said that residents there are for the one-acre minimum lot-size in Happy Valley.

Blair Tulloch of Happy Valley, arguing against the application, also referred to the Happy Valley Dell situation.

THE APPLICANTS were represented by Attorney Sam Hall of Martinez.

Hall stated that his clients had not been aware of the establishment of the one-acre zoning at the time it went into effect some six or seven years ago.

Mrs. Herbert Wensloff said that the commission should give consideration to the rezoning application.

RUSSELL BRUZZONE declared that his family has been in the area for years, that the members of his family and the other large landowners are not speculators and that they wish to develop the land.

The commission asked him where the land would be rezoned.

He indicated on a map that about 50 of the 262 acres could be one-half or one-third acre each and that the remainder of the land could be in lots of one acre or more, according to Griffith.

Bruzzone and Hall were asked to submit a detailed map showing specific areas desired for rezoning.

Bruzzone said he thought he could have such a map ready in about a week, Griffith reported yesterday.

$7.5 Millions Are State Allocation For WC Bypass

The $7.5 million Walnut Creek bypass is definitely in the State Highway Commission's 1957-58 budget, and it is only a matter of time before 27,000 cars a day and more will travel smoothly on four and six lanes of freeway.

Albert Simmons, assistant district engineer, Division of Highways, said today that bids will be called for February 1 or March 1, and work will begin about a month later.

It will take two and a half years to finish the 4.2 miles of super highway(a giant three-level interchange at Mt. Diablo and Oakland Boulevards, second only to the four-level structure in Los Angeles, and four other interchanges with simple overpasses.

THE BIG INTERCHANGE itself will cost "in the millions," Simmons indicated.

Traffic strangling on Contra Costa Highway, north and south, and Mt. Diablo Boulevard to the west, in 1959 or early 1960 will speed along right of ways, which will allow for even greater expansion later on.

The west "leg" between the Pleasant Hill interchange and Oakland Boulevard will have three lanes in each direction, and room for four lanes.

The north leg from the Oakland Boulevard interchange to Walden Road will have two lanes each way, and room for three. Same for the south leg which runs from the same interchange Rudgear Road.

THERE WILL BE an interchange at El Curtola Boulevard on the west leg, another where the old Contra Costa Highway and the freeway will meet, a third near Hillside Avenue to the north, a fourth to the south near Newell Avenue and a fifth near Orchard Road, south.

They will all provide quick access to and from Walnut Creek.

The work on all three legs will begin at about the same time, with drainage projects, relocation of utilities, and diggings of footings for overpasses.

The flow of traffic will not be interrupted but will be detoured.

RIGHTS-OF-WAY will be some 190 feet wide for the future eight laners, and about 166 feet for the future six laners.

The traffic has been increasing about eight to 10 per cent each year in this area, Simmons estimated. The 27,800-car estimate is one way at the Pleasant Hill interchange.

Petition Asks Intervention On State Favored Route

By SHERMAN PEARL

Governor Goodwin J. Knight has been asked to intervene in opposition to the state engineers' proposed Route 4, the direct route of the Shepherd Canyon Freeway.

In a last ditch effort to block the state's apparent intentions of following through on its original selection of the Red Route 4, a petition, signed by more than 600 Orinda residents, was sent Wednesday to the governor.

THE PETITION was passed last Sunday by members of the Orinda-Moraga Homeowners Association, according to a representative of the association.

Included in the Homeowners Association are six organizations: The Lost Valley Improvement Association; Moraga del Rey Improvement Association; Ranchitos de Moraga Improvement Association; Lincoln Estates Improvement Association; Inland Valley Improvement Association; and Moraga Woodlands Improvement Association.

MEANWHILE, as the California Highway Commission ponders over which route the controversial freeway should follow, new fuel was added to the fires of proponents of the disputed Red Route.

The Board of Supervisors, which had originally opposed the state-favored route, Tuesday reiterated that it is now in agreement with the state, a switched position it surprisingly took at a Highway Commission hearing October 3 at Miramonte High School.

At that lenghty session, Board Chairman H. L. "Jack" Cummings startled the assembly by revealing that the board now backed Route 4.

THIS MOVE, combined with the apparently adamant stand taken by the State Division of Highways, spurred the petition appeal to Governor Knight.

Contending that the route proposed by B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer of District IV, has been "designated as drastically disadvantageous to the community," the petition asked the governor to intervene.

Citing several appraisers and consultants who have testified on the impracticality of the state-favored route, the message asked the governor to consider seven points which summarized the objections:

THEY INCLUDED the "excessive grade" of route 4, the added expense, the "internal circulation user costs which offset highway user costs," a loss in taxes, division of the community and diminishing property values.

The petition charged that the state engineers had entirely ignored the "cost of getting to and from the freeway," and "community values," the latter being the most staunchly defended point of objectors.

Governor Knight was asked to "use your good offices to insure that the Highway Department makes an appropriate study of all possible routes and gives due consideration to 'community values'."

"COMMUNITY VALUES" were also used in argument for Route 4 in the supervisors' "supplementary" explanation of their changed position Wednesday.

Their new statement declared: "In this case, we believe that a consideration of community values, independent of construction costs and highway users' benefits, favors the adoption of Route 4."

The statement continued that this route "would be the most beneficial to the two communities we must consider — the total community which is the county itself and the community which will develop in the Moraga Valley as a result of the freeway."

THE BOARD stated that Route 4 will provide an effective barrier from the north (Orinda) to allow development of a balanced functional community identified with Moraga.

"As the flat lands on the valley floor are limited . . . less desirable flat land will be destroyed by the use of Route 4 . . . (which) will be the best for developing secondary feeder roads," the statement claimed.

The hotly debated Route 4 would cut almost directly across the Moraga Valley.

At the October 3 hearing, Cummings declared that the board had studied the freeway situation in light of new, detailed studies and "could not find fault with Route 4 from any standpoint."

He said the county must favor the state's route unless it could be clearly shown that community values would be harmed to an extent offsetting the advantages.

BY REITERATING their stand the supervisors left no doubt that they did not consider objections on this point valid.

The Homeowners Association, represented by Orinda Attorney Robert Thaman at the October 3 hearing, said at that meeting that state engineers had not given adequate consideration to Route 2, the Indian Valely Route.

This alternative to the state's route, which the association favors, was ruled out by the supervisors as too long and costly to builder and motorist.

Following the airing at Miramonte, near which Route 4 would pass, the Highway Commission said it would weigh the contentions for at least a month before rendering decision.

AFS Hallowe'en Appeal -- 'Change for Exchange'

If, instead of seeing a witch or goblin, you seen a teen-ager in a Dutch, French or Swiss costume in front of your door on Halloween, next Wednesday night, don't be surprised.

Garbed in colorful costumes of various foreign lands, several dozen members of the new American Field Service Club at Acalanes High School will call on homes in this area that night, between 7 and 8:30.

Instead of "Trick or treat," the students' slogan will be "Change for exchange."

THEY WILL ASK for financial contributions to a fund for the AFS program next year, to aid in bringing more foreign students to Acalanes for a year and in sending Acalanes students abroad during the summer.

The "change for exchange" Halloween event was agreed upon at a club meeting last week, attended by some 150 Dons and Donnas.

Alan Hewitt, club president, points out that the Halloween "foreign characters" will have receipt books, and that contributions of any amount will be welcome. The students will be in groups of 10.

FOLLOWING the "change for exchange" tour, the AFS Club canvassers will go to the Lafayette Community Methodist Church, where the money will be counted and where they will be entertained at a Halloween party to be given by the Lafayette American Field Service Committee.

Alan points out that if you're not visited by the "foreign emissaries" on Halloween, you can send your contribution to Jeanne Hunnicutt, treasurer of the American Field Service Club, at Acalanes High School, 1200 Pleasant Hill Road, Lafayette.

In addition to Alan and Jeanne, officers of the Acalanes AFS Club include Ellie Hilmer, secretary; Arne Groennings, publicity chairman, and Lou Smith, program chairman.

Agreement Near On Acquisition of New School Site

Agreement is near on the acquisition of a 26-acre site for new schools in the southern end of the Lafayette School District, according to Superintendent W. B. Ellis.

Reporting on the long standing negotiations with Utah Construction Company and the Department of Public Works, Ellis told school trustees Monday night that "considerable progress' was being made.

HE SAID THAT agreement on property boundaries had been held up because of the uncertainty of freeway routes in the area, but that most of these problems had been cleared up.

The Board of Trustees, discussing the proposed site at their meeting Monday, have proposed both an elementary and an intermediate school for the property.

Ellis said that no cost estimate or boundary descriptions are possible at present, but added that the architectural firm of Falk and Booth have been retained to design the two schools.

The site is large enough to accomodate the schools, the superintendent believed, and could possibly "share some facilities."

IN MANEUVERING for another site, the disputed Quandt site, the trustees heard a report that a condemnation trial has been postponed until some undisclosed date after October 30.

The board also formulated a policy on what groups should be allowed to obtain lists of student names from district schools.

It was decided such lists shall be issued only to PTA and parent clubs and Scouting organizations in the district.

ENDORSEMENT of Proposition 2, the California Constitutional issue on the November 6 ballot, also came from the trustees. The proposition relates to a $100 million state school bond issue.

The annual Christmas party for all school personnel was authorized to be held the last week before Christmas vacation in the Stanley School cafeteria.

Unanimous agreement was given to charging the employees a nominal fee for the dinner and party.

Jaycees Hear John Baldwin

Congressman John Baldwin was the guest speaker last Saturday morning at the second annual Membership Breakfast of the Lafayette Junior Chamber of Commerce at El Nido Rancho.

Baldwin, one of seevral honored guests at the meeting, discussed legislation affecting Contra Costa County which was passed in the last session of Congress.

Other guests at the meeting, which was presided over by President Hans R. Beetz, were Ralph Stillings, past national Jaycee director; Herman Silverman, pubisher of The Sun; Larry Blakesley, president of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Ralph Ligon, president of the Lafayette Rotary Club; and Mel Nielsen, candidate for supervisor.

Following Baldwin's remarks, "The place of the young man in the community" was discussed by Stillings.

'No Parking' Zone Gets OK

A "no parking" zone will be established in about 30 days on Moraga Highway, Orinda, beginning 55 feet southerly of Bryant Way and running southerly a distance of 20 feet.

The section involved—the equivalent of one parking stall—is between the two driveways of the Associated Station.

Action to establish the zone was taken by the Board of Supervisors Tuesday, following recommendation of the County Public Works Department.

Acting County Traffic Engineer Tom Shreve said that a request for the zone by the station operator had the approval of the Orinda Parking Authority.

Hurt on Cycle

California Highway Patrolman Fred H. Scott, 27, of 3237 Norton Drive, Lafayette, was slightly injured last week when his motorcycle struck an oil spot on Oakland Boulevard and overturned.

'Serendipity' is A Way of Life, Rotary Learns

"Serendipity" is the gift of finding something better than what you are looking for," members of the Orinda Rotary learned Wednesday.

At a noon luncheon meeting at the Willow Inn, this bit of information was passed on by the originator of this unique philosophy, Rotary Secretary Harold Bryant.

A zoologist by profession, Bryant told his fellow Rotarians that he had coined the phrase. "Serendipity," from the writings of Hugh Walpole and had extended it as a way of life.

In explaining his idea, the secretary cited an experience he had while superintendent of Grand Canyon National Park, a position he held for 15 years.

Bryant explained that one day, while exploring the park, he came across a plant he recognized as buckwheat—but it was red.

Believing that no red buckwheat existed in the canyon, he sent the specimen to the Smithsonian Institution which, he said, couldn't classify it.

But when he took it to the California Academy of Sciences, the authorities there classified the plant as a new Grand Canyon flower.

Extending this determination into everyday life, Bryant claimed, means that one can always find more than is first apparent, if he looks hard enough. This, he said, can apply to scenery, endeavors and human relationships.

President Ramsay Underwood presided over the program arranged by Leighton MacGregor.

Season's First Frost Arrives

The season's first frost, plus a sprightly splashing of rain, highlighted the local weather during the past week.

The frost was recorded Tuesday in Lafayette and Wednesday in Orinda. Rainfall for the week came to .19 of an inch in Lafayette, bringing the weather-year total (since July 1) to .80 of an inch. In Orinda the week's splash was .18 of an inch—weather year score, .74 of an inch. Tuesday and Wednesday were the wet days in both towns.

SUN to Give Vote Returns On Radio KECC

The Sun, in cooperation with Radio Station KECC, Pittsburg, will broadcast election results November 6.

The broadcast will be handled in much the same manner as the broadcast presented for your enjoyment in June when the primary elections were held.

Latest information on the supervisorial race in District Two, as well as the balloting on propositions and national races will be provided.

Interesting personalities will be present at the Sun offices to comment on the returns.

Orinda Value Days Start Soon; Shoppers Get Ready

If merchants in Orinda seem a little busier than usual . . . and if local shoppers are eagerly anticipating a boon . . . they're only getting ready for the gala "Orinda Value Days," which are almost here.

The big days of savings will take place next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 1, 2 and 3.

Already the windows of Orinda shops and stores are being brightened by the appearance of bright and attractive window displays, designed to let customers know they can expect to come out way ahead when they shop on these days.

But most consumers already realize that buying from Orinda merchants on these days mean extra savings while purchasing high quality merchandise.

Orinda Value Days are a semi-annual event, conducted by the Merchants Committee of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce.

The committee and local merchants have had since last April, when the coming Value Days were planned, to prepare the special items and slash prices generally.

The displays and signs, provided by the chamber of commerce, are announcing that "shopping at home" will pay off more than ever during the celebration.

According to John Ogden, chairman of the Merchants Committee, Orinda merchants will have some of their finest items on special sale, offering this merchandise at great savings to the buyers.

And these will be the same quality items that local stores have had in regular stock. No "special" goods will be brought in for Value Days.

"This program will benefit shoppers and merchants alike," said Ogden. "It should go a long way toward building and improving Orinda business."

Vandals Ravage Old Town Hall

The Lafayette Town Hall is much the worse for wear this week after vandals staged another of their recurring raids last weekend on the old meeting hall.

When local residents tried to enter the hall Sunday morning to clean up after a dance Saturday night, they found the front door lock had been broken

Upon finally gaining entrance, Mrs. Ray Crist, manager of Town Hall, reported to the sheriff's substation she found that phone wires had been cut and the place had been ravaged.

Rubbish was littering the floor and furnishings were damaged, the manager reported.

Mrs. Crist said that vandals have been striking Town Hall periodically, each time doing similar damage.

Bulldozer Used To Reach Out-Of-Hand Bonfire

A small bonfire, built on a hill on Redwood Lane near Happy Valley Road Wednesday, forced the Lafayette Fire Department to build an improvised road and wage a hand to hand battle aginst the flames for three hours.

Built on the top of a steep hillside by a pair of teenage Berkeley boys, the small blaze trickled onto the surrounding grass and got out of control about 2 p.m.

When the fire department arrived, it discovered that the blaze's locale was inaccessible due to the steep grades.

A bulldozer, which was brought into action to clear a fire break, was then employed in levelling a road running around the hill on which the department's vehicles could pass.

A jeep, however, was the only vehicle that could maneuver on the tricky terrain.

Pumping water to the jeep through lines from the fire trucks, firemen finally encountered the rapidly spreading blaze and fought it by hand for three hours before bringing it under control.

According to Assistant Fire Chief Elwin Maxey, the conflagration seared 10 or 15 acres of brush before being doused. Slight damage to property was reported.

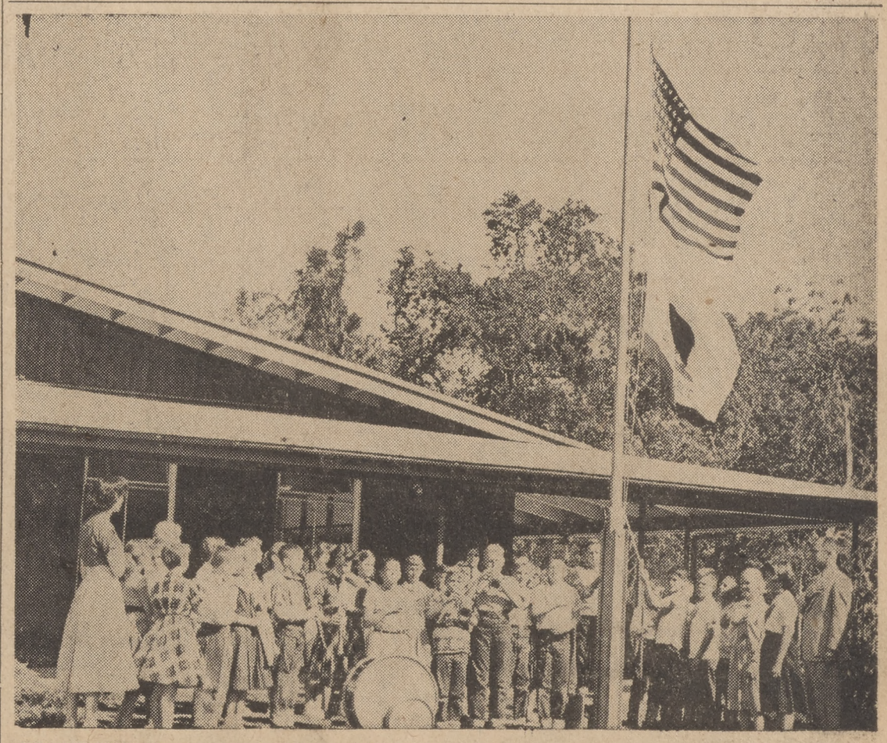
Maxey said the two boys had been hunting with B-B guns on the hill when they got a bit chilly and decided a bonfire was just the thing to warm them up.

Civic Affairs List Revised

In a brief meeting preceding the Candidates' Night program Monday night, the Orinda Association board discussed the problem of bringing up-to-date the list of organizations which should be represented on the association's Civic Affairs Committee.

It was agreed that those organivations "with civic work as their primary interest" should be eligible.

President Mel Arighi instructed Vice-President Gene Estes to inform the Civic Affairs Committee that only bona-fide groups can make nominations for Orinda Association directorships in the forthcoming association election.



FLAG-RAISING ceremony is performed each Monday morning at the Burton School in Lafayette, with the entire student body participating. Here is a recent occurrence of the impressive event.

Orinda Teachers Take New Local Course of Training

More than 60 teachers in the Orinda School District are taking a new in-service training course, with the double objective of improving teaching methods and of earning credits to be applied toward teachers' advancement in salry schedule.

By attending 40 hours of the training program a teacher will receive two units of credit toward salary increase next year. The program, officially approved by the Orinda School Board early this month, got under way about three weeks ago.

Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff and Assistant Superintendent Philip Lambert explain that participation in the program is voluntary. They point out that it was studied intensively for two years by teachers, administrators and the county staff.

According to Lambert, the teachers taking the course "represent approximately 80 per cent of the teaching staff of the district."

CLERK KARL Schevill of the Orinda School Board describes the new project as "a tremendous program."

"The teachers are in favor of it, and I'm enthusiastic about it," Schevill says.

"Not only will it aid the teachers in advancing in the salary schedule, but, also, it will result in better education for the children."

THE PROGRAM is described by Lambert as consisting of the following three parts:

1. Ten school-building meetings of two hours' duration each, under the direction of the school principal. The teacher attends these sessions at the school where she teaches. These meetings are devoted to th study of developmental reading methods.

2. Eight district-wide meetings according to primary, elementary and intermediate grades. These will be devoted to study of music, art, sicence, health and social studies. Each meeting will be for two hours. This phase will be under direction of the administrative staff of the district, in cooperation with the county superintendent of schools' office.

3. Two district-wide meetings according to each individual grade level (kindergarten through eighth), devoted to discussion of grade level problems. Each of these sessions will be two hours' duration. These meetings will be under the leadership of Sheaff and Lambert.

"WE THINK this program will be extremely beneficial in bringing the teaching staff up to date on the latest teaching methods in various subjects," Lambert says.

"In turn, the students will get the ultimate benefit from this program."

Lambert states that the in-servcie program "is in no way a substitute for university courses."

"However," he adds, "'we do feel that these courses are equivalent to some of the university courses offered."

Moms Renew Bridge Sessions

Bridge groups of the Orinda Mothers Club, which had their first meetings earlier this month, will hold their November sessions with many new players, according to Mrs. Richard Neddersen, bridge chairman.

Hostesses for next week's meetings on Thursday and Friday are the following:

Thursday morning, Mrs. R. A. Sodestrom,; Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Robeson Smith; Friday morning, Mrs. Robert D. Creighton; Friday afternoon, Mrs. H. W. Angell.

Last week the hostesses for the sessions were the Mesdames Roger Patterson, J. McDonald, E. Dimphel and Wallace Elliot.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Neddersen at CL 4-5023.

Sales Managership

Orinda resident H. Bruce Hamilton has been promoted to Northern California sales promotion manager for Seagram-Distillers Company.

Having joined Seagram in 1947 as a sales representative, Hamilton was advanced to brand manager and in 1954, to account executive.

Letters to The Editor

TRUCK-FREE ROAD

Dear Editor:

I wish to protest the use of the Pinehurst Road by trucks carrying material from the proposed quarry on land owned by A. J. McCosker, as this road passes directly beside Canyon School and is the only route (aside from walking the Sacramento-Northern tracks) by which the children of the community can reach the school.

Origially Mr. McCosker stated that he had no intentions of trucking material out of the quarry along Pinehurst Road and that he would operate the quarry only if he could obtain access to the new freeway.

On this understanding I did not feel justified in opposing development of this quarry. However, if Mr. McCosker is unwilling to stipulate that Pinehurst Road will not be used for trucking, I'm firmly opposed to granting a quarry permit.

It aturally follows that I'm opposed to "improvement" of Pinehurst Road with county funds. This would not remove the danger to school children.

The present road is entirely adequate for the traffic which it carries and it seems a specious argument to say that such improvement is in the public interest because it enhances the value of the area as a park.

Road improvement in itself contributes nothing to the natural features, and usually must destroy some of them.

If Contra Costa County is serious in its intention to develop a park in the valley of San Leandro Creek, it would seem only sensible to acquire the park site first, and make improvements of roads in this site secondary.

The suggestion of improving Pinehurst Road to make it useable by heavy trucks seems suspiciously like the use of public funds to further a private interest.

Fishing

When you're approaching good fishing waters, be quiet. Conversation won't disturb the fish, but the thumping of an oar on the bottom of the boat or the squeaking of an oarlock will really cause them to scury away.

Scout Salute

Troop 98

At Walnut Creek Recreation Center tomorrow, Girl Scout Troop 98 of Lafayette will hold its first cook-out of the term.

Mrs. Virginia Smith, Mrs. Marge Edwards and Mrs. Ynez Frazell, leaders of the 33 member troop, are taking the girls through first class rank.

The troop has many exciting events coming. The "Good Grooming" patrol is going to a local beauty salon for tips on hair styling, and will invest four new members as Girl Scouts.

Troop Mothers have just had their first "Mothers Meeting" to give their ideas on interesting things.

Troop 43

Members of Brownie Troop 43 received their Year Pins and participated in the formal investiture of Brownie Troop 113 last Tuesday at the Glorietta School all-purpose room.

Mrs. H. T. Jones is the troop leader, assisted by Mrs. Robert Miller.

Troop 43 Brownies have completed Halloween decorations and are making Christmas ornaments as part of their craft program. Several field trips are scheduled for the near future.

Brownies

The members of Orinda Brownie Troop 157 were invested recently in a garden ceremony at the home of the leader, Mrs. George Hartzell, with the co-leader, Mrs. Ray Meyer, assisting.

The girls of the new group receiving pins were Linda Beasley, Patty Bigler, Karen Bettencourt, Peggy Bell, Avona Bragg, Deborah Hopper, Julie Hartzell, Susan Meyer, Julie Messersmith, and Laurie Winthers.

Second-year Brownies of Troop 304 lead by Mrs. William Cary and Mrs. Arthur Slaymaker helped receive the new Brownies into Girl Scouting and after the investiture ceremony received their year pins.

Troop 307

Brownie Troop 307 was recently reorganized for it's second year activities under the leadership of Mrs. Paul H. Williams and Mrs. T. J. Deahl.

Last Saturday they went on a field trip to the Girl Scout Day Camp at Twin Canyon.

Troop 113

Brownie Troop 113 held its formal investiture Tuesday in the all-purpose room at Glorietta School.

Each girl presented her mother with a flower from the mounds of greenery in the improvised pond, where the investing took place.

Group leader Mrs. Emile Leonardo and co-leader Mrs. William Gracey were assisted by Brownie Troop 43, headed by Mrs. Truxtun Jones and Mrs. Robert Miller.

Brownie pins were received by Joan Frakes, Bonnie Gracey, Leslie Hansen, Alyson Lee, Mimi Leonardo, Dana Miller, Christine Sherman, Susan Van Sicklen and Linda Watkins.

College Delves Into History Of Early Indians

Contra Costa's oldest known inhabitants — the estimated 2000 year old Indians whose bones were unearthed this month in Concord—have been the subject of a quiet study by East Contra Costa Junior College students of anthropology.

Until recent publicity brought an onrush of the curious, and rains added other damage, the students under the direction of instructor Charles K. Sapper have been working to unearth the fragile and somewhat mashed skeletal remains.

Their initial finds were adult molar teeth, worn down as if by sand, leading them to believe that grains of sand were in the food of the Middle Horizon people through the constant use of sandstone implements in food preparation.

Sapper said the finding of a quartz crystal among the bone fragments was significant because the closest known source of the rock is the Mother Lode of the Sierras, 120 miles away. To date, no one has found evidence of cremation and there is a disappointing lack of artifacts.

Two members of the University of California's Archeological Survey also investigated the site and aided in establishing the burial date as being between 500 B.C. and the year 1 A.D.

This information and mapping data are to be added to an archeological survey which the University has been conducting for several years.

Sapper's students have gained rare practical experience in the unearthing. Six who have done the principal digging and brushing, include June Iovin of Walnut Creek; Richard Nicolay, Danville; Tom Johnson, Orinda; Herb Shrum, Crockett; Patrick Lee, Concord, and Paul D. Hinkle, Antioch.

Orindans to Sit With Boys Town Directors

Robert P. Raskob and John P. O'Shea will represent Orinda next Thursday night in San Francisco at a general meeting of the board of directors of Hanna Boys' Center. The 45-member board directs the administrative affairs of the California "boys' town" in Sonoma.

Program of Girl Scouts Reviewed; Much Achieved

The Diablo Valley Girl Scout Council recently reviewed its program. It has 1200 registered adult volunteer workers and served 3500 Girl Scouts, including Brownies, during the September 1955 to 1956.

The Council established for itself some goals for 1956: 1. To develop the new Day Campsite (located on Springhill Road, Lafayette). 2. To strengthen neighborhoods of troops. 3. Give more training for all adults. 4. To strengthen Senior Girl Scouting.

The Camp Site Development Committee reported that eighty adults gave over eight hundred hours of help developing the camp on Springhill Road, and over 500 hours at the established camp in the Tahoe National Forrest, 6000 feet high in the Sierras.

During the summer seven sessions of one week each of day camp were held, giving camping experience to 1150 girls with 250 adult volunteer staff. Four hundred and twenty girls camped overnight accompanied by 85 adults, and 1225 girls have camped overnight at the site during the last year.

At the Sierra Woodlands camp 314 girls learned advanced camping, which includes survival and conservation programs.

The Council sent two Senior Scouts to the National Round-Up at Highland, Michigan, and four Seniors were hosts for five days campout to a group of Canadian Girl Guides.

A total of 412 volunteers were trained or oriented to provide good programming. The Council Board received training in the ways of Girl Scouting, and extra courses in specialized fields such as lifesaving, first aid, troop camping, nature and badge workshops were held.

In the field of community service, the Girl Scouts prepared kits for the United Crusade, provided favors and gifts for the children at the Weimar T.B. Sanitorium, worked with the Heart Association and the Cancer Association and Chistmas Seals.

The Girl Souts participated in the 1955 Walnut Festival Parade with a float and won first prize. In 1956 a marching unit took part. They have provided many window displays for civic and community events.

In 1955 the National Girl Scout Convention was held in San Francisco with ten delegates and thirty alternates attending from Diablo Valley.

250 Orindans Hear Nominees At 'Town Hall'

Nearly 250 persons crowded Orinda School auditorium Monday night for a Candidates' Night "town hall" meeting and heard the views of county, state and national candidates.

They also heard a summary of the state propositions which will be on the November 6 ballot.

The gathering was sponsored by the Orinda Association board. President Mel Arighi opened the meeting, then turned the chair over to Marvin Baker, who had arranged the details of the program.

STATE SENATOR George Miller Jr. (D), candidate for reelection, discussed highlights of his career. The Republican candidate, Jack Pedder, was represented by his brother, Robert Pedder.

Assemblyman Donald Doyle (R) cited some of his activities in the Legislature and asked to be returned to office. His Democratic opponent, Russell Koch, was absent because of a sore throat, Baker announced.

The congressional race spokesmen were Congressman John Baldwin's representative, Jack Merchant, and Dr. H. R. Quinney, the Democratic candidate.

SUPERVISORIAL candidates Mel Nielsen and C. R. Wallace wound up the direct statements of nominees.

This phase of the program was followed by a question-and-answer period.

PRECEDING the talks by the candidates, the three Orinda members of the League of Women Voters discussed the state propositions. These women were Mesdames Robert Karplus, Millard Simon and Benjamin Mallary.

Mrs. Karplus gave a brief description of each proposition, Where there has been controversy, Mrs. Simon summarized the "pro" arguments, and Mrs. Mallary summarized the "con" arguments.

Community

Rev. Chauncey Blosom will use "The Pilgrim Way" as his sermon topic at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services Sunday in the Orinda Community Church. The Chancel Choir will sing "Brother James' Air" by Jacob.

Church School for all ages through high school will be held at 9:30; and through the 8th grade at the 11 o'clock hour.

Junior High Pilgrim Fellowship will have its regular meeting at the church 4 p.m. Mr. R. A. Soderstrom will show the rock display he entered in the Standard Oil Company Hobby Show.

Senior Pilgrim Fellowship will have Officer Joseph Ramos from the Oakland Police Department to demonstrate a Lie Detector as a special feature of their meeting at 6:45 p.m.

High School Choir will meet for rehearsal with Mr. Ellison at 6 p.m.

Shipmates Will Hear Square-Rigger Man

The Shipmates of the Orinda Community Church will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Twining, 58 Hacienda Circle, Orinda. Speaker will be Ed Nelson who will tell his experiences as an officer on a square-rigger sailing boat which is still in operation and on which he still works.

Campaign to Teach Locals Fire Safety

Every resident of Orinda will in the next few months learn of the ever-present danger of fires and means of averting them, as a result of the fire safety educational campaign to be conducted by the Orinda Fire Department.

The house to house drive, to be started soon, will stress fall, winter and spring fire precautions to be taken in the home, according to William Koch, Orinda Fire Marshall.

"Knowing the people of Orinda, we feel sure that we will receive the whole-hearted cooperation of all," Koch stated in announcing the campaign.

With winter approaching, the marshall stressed especially the fire danger incurred by dust and dirt that has collected around furnace motors during the warmer months.

He asks local residents to be sure to clean the motors and replace or clean air filters.

Music, Cuisine Highlight Party

A three-piece orchestra and ham and turkey buffet were features recently at the Glorietta Improvement Association's annual party.

Gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Harrer on Seven Oaks Circle, some 250 Glorietta neighbors joined in a festive evening of cocktails, dinner, swimming and dancing.

Arrangements for the affair were in the hands of DeWitt Donovan, Glorietta Association president, assisted by William Harsha and J. R. Quinn.

5th Grade Moms 'Meet Classmates'

Fifth-grade mothers of Orinda School last Tuesday gathered for a coffee hour at the home of Mrs. Joseph Angelo, 173 Orinda Highway.

The affair was planned by Mrs. Angelo and Mrs. W. C. Little as an "extra-curricular" gathering where the many new mothers in the class would have a chance to get acquainted informally with their "classmates."

Represented were the mothers of children in Mrs. Hicks' fifth grade and in the fifth-grade section of Mrs. English's combined fourth- and fifth-grade class.

Flower Tour Will Begin Tomorrow

The Chrysanthemum tour will begin tomorrow noon in central county homes, under the sponsorship of the Chrysanthemum Study Club of the East Bay.

Continuing through Sunday, it is a prelude to the annual Chrysanthemum Show, to be held November 3-4 at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center.

The center is on Ygnacio Valley Road, east of the city hall.

Tourists tomorrow will see the George Bowersox garden at 22 Diablo Circle, Hidden Valley, Lafayette, with more than 1500 plants of all types.

Plants grown by Dr. Ira Cross of Berkeley will also be there.

The Robert E. Jacobsen garden of 3809 North Lucile Lane, Lafayette, will feature giant exhibition type blooms and the art of indoor flower arrangements with mums.

Other gardens to be open will be those of E. Wynne Newell, 1700 Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek, Captain and Mrs. William Stritzky, 20 Garron Court, Walnut Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lively of 1012 Apple Drive, Concord and Mr. and Mrs. Vic Widmers of 2207 Holbrook Drive, Concord.

Hours tomorrow and Sunday are noon to 4 p.m. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Stritzky at YE 4-8147.

WHAT'S DOING
Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

He found phones wherever he went

Recently, Mr. Bill Brown and his family took an auto trip to attend a business conference. After he returned, he sat down and wrote us a letter saying: "The new modern roadside telephone booths were one of the most useful conveniences we found. They are everywhere, even out in state parks away from city populations. They saved us hours of time and eliminated so much of the annoyance of waiting." Right you are, Mr. Brown. When you're away from home and have a call to make just look for that familiar Bell emblem. It means there's a phone handy.

* * * * *

Where were you when that call came in?

The last time the telephone rang in your home, where were you? Cooking dinner in the kitchen, doing up that blouse in the sewing room or out in the workshop finishing up that chair? Wouldn't it have been swell just to reach out and answer the phone instead of rushing halfway through the house to get the call? Telephones in the rooms you use a lot are convenient. The cost is $1.00 a month for each one after a single installation charge. You can call us today and make yours a telephone-convenient home.

RHEEM CENTER, as seen by architects, will look like this in the near future. Located on Rheem Boulevard, near Moraga, the center is expected to be the hub of shopping and neighborhood business in the community. New businesses are opening up in the shopping center and merchants are already making this vision of the future a reality. Architects promise functional as well as decorative designs in all Rheem Center construction.

Shannon Moves to Rheem

Patrons of Shannon's Iron and Clay, Inc., will no longer find the colorful shop at its old stand in Lafiesta Shopping Center, Lafayette.

Owner Bill Shannon has packed his variety of goods and moved the shop into Rheem Center. The Iron and Clay shop is now operating out of the Center Hardware building.

According to Shannon, customers will find the same quality items in the new location as they have in the old.

"The location is the only thing that's changed," the owner said.

Still on sale at Iron and Clay is a wide range of home appliances, radios, television sets, dishes, and many other items useful and necessary to the home.

But Iron and Clay's specialty remains the elegant and unique wrought iron furniture and other products which brighten home and patio.

Still on the job is Iron and Clay's service man, Harold Yount.

Kids' Feet Get Support In New Moraga Bootery

Going along with "the great growth in the community," Moraga Bootery, located at 124 Park Street in Rheem Center, opened its doors last Saturday to "give local youngsters a chance to grow and walk in comfort."

This was announced by Paul and Yvonne Blais, owners of the new business enterprise, who bring a quarter century of experience in handling children's footwear to this area.

For the past 25 years Mrs. Blais has been fitting children's shoes in a leading Oakland department store. She also holds a Dr. Locke certificate for fitting orthopedic shoes.

This certificate well qualifies Moraga Bootery to carry a large stock of special orthopedic footwear.

Aside from a wide range of colors, sizes and styles in youngsters' shoes, the new shop is also handling a variety of ladies' casuals.

Mr. and Mrs. Blais are currently residing in Oakland, but are planning to move to this area in the near future.

T & V Meats At Clark's Has 2nd Anniversary

T and V Moraga Choice Meats is a name widely known for personalized service. It's the name of the meat department at Clark's Market in Rheem Center — and the department is celebrating its second anniversary, along with the rest of Clark's Market.

Marking the anniversary with a special sale today through tomorrow owners Tony Fereira and Vasco Giannini this week expressed thanks to the public for its patronage. The anniversary sale started last week.

"SERVICE is our motto," they say — and they have been building their reputation for the eight years they have been partners. They have been operating T and V Choice Meats at Black's Market, Orinda, for eight years; T and V Moraga Choice Meats at Clark's Market, Rheem Center, for two years, and T and V Meats at Kings Food Center, Lafayette, for the past six months.

Poultry and fresh fish, as well as choice grade meats, are specially selected by Giannini and Fereira. "We invite customers to discuss their menu problem with us," Giannini says. "We will cut any order to the desired thickness. We specialize in meat for your freezer."

JOINING in thanking the public are Giannini's and Fereira's six meat-cutters at Clark's—Ed Widman, Ed Freitas, B. D. "Duke" Brownell, Chuck Johansen, Ed Engle and Hank Pardini.

Giannini lives at 6 Valencia Road, Orinda. Fereira lives in Oakland.

Don Frosh Elect Girl President

Acalanes freshmen have chosen the first girl class president in the Lafayette school's history, Mary Rambo, to head frosh activities for the 1956-57 school year.

Assisting their new president are Paul Colin, vice president; Pat O'Toole, secretary; Bonnie Gallagher, treasurer; athy Desch, social secretary.

Don freshmen will meet their first school service assignment when they are required to decorate for the Acalanes Christmas music presentation.

Acalanes Honor Students to Tour

Fifty-four Acalanes honor students, members of the Don California Scholarship Federation, will visit the University of California at Davis next Thursday.

The Acalanes students will divide into smaller groups and tour the college departments, and view student activities as guests of the Davis student body. The Acalanes C.S.F. under the direction of their advisor Mrs. Heloise Corr, tours an average of one bay area college a year to gain an insight into the requirements of regional universities and colleges.

ONE HOME COMMON to all the Realtors in the central county will be this new diagrammed building in the 1300's on Locust Street. The work will begin in the near future. The building will extend deep into its lot, providing room for a library, storage room and work room in the rear, lounge, offices and waiting room in the front. An auditorium will be on the second floor.

Realtors Mark Anniversary of Listing Service

The spectacular 10-year history of the Multiple Listing Service was reviewed Monday, in the MLS anniversary luncheon held by the Contra Costa Real Estate Board.

"So far this year we have sold $13,807,050 in real estate property, which is more than the total for 1955," said Barney Gilbert, current president, when his turn came to speak.

HIS TALK was among many lauding the benefits to property buyer and seller under the listing service, which makes a house for sale known throughout the area.

"Your board is one of the outstainding real estate organizations in the state," Morris Read, a past state president, told members.

He praised them for their spirit and cooperation, and predicted that, "You haven't seen anything yet."

"Contra Costa County is in a special position to take advantage of our real estate prosperity. This is a chosen location with favored climate and beautiful terrain."

THE LUNCHEON at the Pioneer Village in Lafayette was one of the best attended in the history of the board, which has about 400 salesmen and 100 brokers.

Luncheon coordinator was Charles Bailey. Master of ceremonies and "captain" of the Multiple Listing Showboat was Bill Hayward.

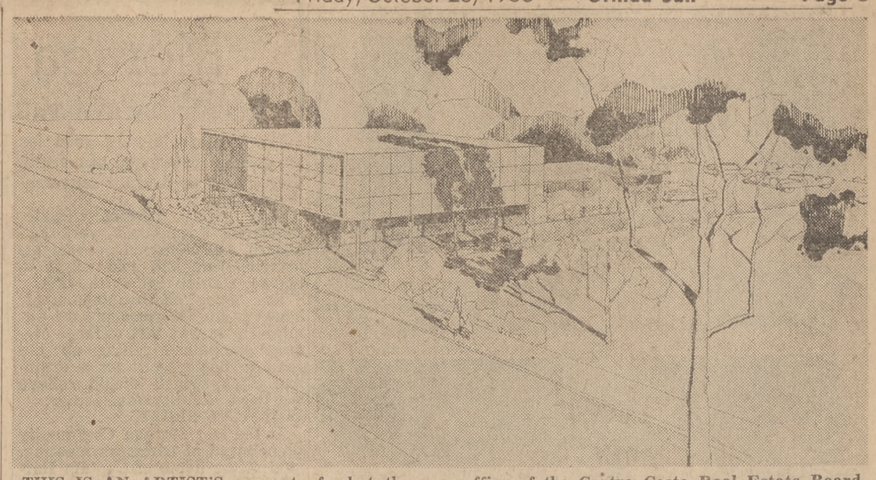
State Assembly Donald Doyle attended, and offered his congratulations and those of Governor Goodwin Knight.

Judge Hugh Potter of Housten, former president of the National Association of Real Estate Commissioner and former state board president, spoke.

THE HISTORY of the board was outlined by a series of speakers. William Anderson covered the period from 1946 to 1949 saying that "unlike some areas, the board and the mart work closely together."

Stan Massie covered 1950-51, A. J. Buck Johnson, 1952-53, Harlan Geldermann, 1954-55. Geldermann told how several contraversial issues were solved during those years, and a strong basis of cooperation was established between builders and realtors.

Tribute was paid to Frank Curtis, chairman of the MLS celebration and his committee.



THIS IS AN ARTIST'S concept of what the new office of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board will look like when completed on the west side of Locust Street, just south of the First Church of Christ, Scientist. The present offices are at 1607 Locust.

NOBODY HAD MORE FUN than the local real estate contingent at the Contra Costa Real Estate Board's 10th Anniversary celebration of the Multiple Listing Service Monday at Pioneer Village in in Lafayette. These performers, all local real estate people, provided some bang-up entertainment. Evacuation of Students Now Studied by Trustees

Tabulation of parent opinion recently taken on what to do with students in the event of a civil defense disaster indicates that 61 per cent of the parents with children enrolled in schools within the Acalanes High School District area prefer to have their children evacuated.

The tabulation includes both high school and elementary district pupils.

Acalanes District trustees have decided to meet with elementary boards within the high school district to work out suitable civil defense plans in which only those students who have parent consent will be included in an evacuation.

Acalanes District trustees during their meeting last Monday heard a report from industrial art department chairmen Robert Thom of Acalanes and Gene Melville of Las Lomas.

Both instructors recommended that every boy in the district schools be given the opportunity to learn how to use tools as a part of his general education program.

Trustees discussed the integration of the industrial arts program with the rest of the basic school curriculum and noted that 40 per cent of the total district enrollment is now taking some form of industrial arts instruction.

District industrial arts courses include basic shop, an exploratory study in wood and metal shops, crafts and mechanical drawing; and, more advanced and specialized training in wood, metal, and auto shops, mechanical drawing and crafts, and electric shop.

Trustees observed that the present industrial arts program "has the proper perspective in the total curriculum and is effectively meeting the needs of the students of the community."

Duncan Knudsen Re-Elected Head Of Diablo Scouts

Duncan Knudsen of Lafayette was re-elected chairman of the Meridian District, Mt. Diablo Council Boy Scouts, at a meeting of the District Committee, at Acalanes High School October 17.

Thomas Mika of Orinda was elected district vice chairman for 1957 to succeed Dr. Ralph Hall, currently holding that position. Community Vice-Chairmen Orville W. Sammann of Lafayette and A. E. O'Nion of Danville-Alamo were re-elected.

For Walnut Creek, Melvin Melnicoe, chairman of Cub Pack 234, was elected community vice-chairman; and in Pleasant Hill, Bruce Herbert, currently a neighborhood commissioner, was elected to the equivalent post.

They will relace L. A. Dodge and T. P. Wilson, who have accepted other assignments.

Recommended for the District Commissioner assignment were Lester Lloyd of Lafayette, who is now neighborhood commissioner. He will replace Glenn Gleason, Walnut Creek, who has held the position for the past two years. Gleason will become chairman of the District Camping and Activities Committee.

It was decided to hold the annual pot-luck dinner at San Ramon High School, Danville, on November 10. Each Pack, Troop, and Explorer committee was invited to attend, with partners, to honor the leaders of the boys in their units.

Each sponsoring institutional group will be requested to plan its own menu, table decorations, and attendance. Coffee will be served by the District Committee and Commissioners.

There will be a planned program of recognitions and an outstanding speaker. G. H. Macey of Pleasant Hill is chairman of the dinner committee.

Polio Cases Up; 52 Cases Are Noted

There have been 52 cases of polio in Contra Costa County so far this year, compared with only 39 for the same period last year, Dr. H. L. Blum, health officer, said today.

He added, "The polio picture is worse this year than last. So, the importance of polio vaccinations for our children and you adults cannot be overemphasized."

Dr. Blum declared there is no doubt that the vaccine is effective in preventing paralytic polio and that Salk vaccine has prevented 80 per cent of the paralytic type in California.

Of the 34 cases of paralytic polio this year, only two had received vaccine. Only one had significant paralysis and the other had received only the first injection of the series.

Commercial vaccine is available from private physicians, who should be the first source of all medical care. If this is not practical, Health Department clinics are maintained throughout the county where children through 19 years of age and pregnant women may receive polio vaccine.

It was also announced that the Concord clinic for polio immunization, usually held on the first Tuesday of the month, has been cancelled, November 6.

Youth Concerts Signs Stan Wilson for Series

Stan Wilson, famed ballad singer, will appear March 31, in one of the four Youth Concerts to be held next year in the Las Lomas High School auditorium.

His appearance will be the third in a series of musical events in the area, which are designed to bring top-rank entertainment to young people at less cost, according to Mrs. James Perry, Youth Concerts, Inc. president.

The first will be the San Francisco Symphony, to appear at Las Lomas on January 27.

The University of California Glee Club and Treble Clef Society will present a complete program on February 24.

Stan Wilson is in March, and the final performance will be by the Berkeley Youth Symphony on April 28.

Subscriptions cost $3.50 and may be obtained by writing Box 83, Walnut Creek.

The signing of Wilson promises one of the most distinctive events of the year for area music lovers, said Mrs. Perry.

Shopping at home means savings in time and money. And by supporting local merchants you are making this a better community to live in.

Arthur Mason Is Navy Officer

Arthur H. Mason, son of Commander and Mrs. Guy A. Mason, USN, of 118 Kendall Road, Walnut Creek, and husband of the former Miss Sylvia M. Twomey of Santa Monica, was graduated from the Navy's Officer Candidate School at Newport, R.I., October 12.

To earn their commission the new officers had to complete a 17-week course of study and indoctrination covering such subjects as navigation, engineering, seamanship, military justice and naval weapons.

An informed citizen is prepared to help with community projects and problems. The Sun strives to keep its readers up to date on local community events.

Audubons Will Take Field Trip

A monthly meeting of the Mt. Diablo Audubon Society will be held Thursday at Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek, in Room 201.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beitzel of Concord, well known for their outstanding photography in the field, will show a series of their color slides, "Seasons in Yosemite." Time will be 8 p.m.

The Society will make its monthly field trip November 3 and 4 to the waterfowl refuges in Sacramento Valley.

The leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adamson, outlined the trip as follows:

November 3 the group will start at the Headquarters of Gray Lodge State Game Refuge at 10:30 a.m. To reach the refuge members should drive west of Gridley six miles then south on Pemmington Road two miles, west again to Refuge Headquarters sign.

Those planning on the overnight trip should make their reservations as soon as possible at either the Markay or Pacific Motel.

Everyone will wear warm clothing and stout shoes, and prepare lunches for both days.

At 10 a.m. on November 4 the meeting place will be at the Sacramento Wildlife Refuge seven miles South of Willows on the east side of Route 99w.

'Devil's Grip' Worries Parents

A strange little virus, which doctors refer to as epeidemic pleuredynia but laymen call "devil's grip," has been striking at local youths for a long while.

Although not too serious a disease, devil's grip has taken a far more serious toll in worried parents and anxious friends than on the victims themselves.

For when the symptoms of the disease are first apparent they are extremely similar to another, more deadly ailment — polio.

The disease, transmitted by contact with an ill person or articles freshly soiled by this person, manifests itself in intermittent fever, headache, nausea, severe stabbing chest pains and generalized aching in the muscles and joints.

It usually runs its course in eight to 10 days.

The symptoms show up from three to five days after contact with the disease is made. Althouh usually occuring in epidemics in summer and early autumn, the disease has not hit Contra Costa too heavily.

Mostly children and young adults are affected, although it frequently may spread to an entire household.

Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer, advises local residents to consult a doctor when syinptoms of devil's grip arise.

Skyway-Event Lunch Honors H. L. Cummings

Following formal opening of the $1,348,000 Cummings Skyway between Martinez and Crockett that day, a civic luncheon Tuesday at Paul's Place, Martinez, honored Board of Supervisors Chairman H. L. (Jack) Cummings, after whom the new highway is named.

More than 150 county leaders attended, as well as state highway engineers and officials, including Frank Durkee, state director of public works, who was the principal speaker.

Presiding was Hal Saunders, president of the Contra Costa County Development Association, which sponsored the dedication ceremonies and the luncheon.

CUMMINGS, who will retire from public life in January, after 24 years as supervsior from the Second District, told the gathering:

"Contra Costa owes me nothing. But I owe Contra Costa everything, because it has given me the opportunity to serve the people and to make so many friends."

DURKEE PRAISED Contra Costa County cooperation with state highway officials, and he said: "I should point out that one of the reasons Contra Costa has such a large state highway program under way is your determination to help yourselves in highway matters."

Among those who paid tribute to Cummings were Supervisors Ray Taylor, Ivan Goyak, Jake Frederickson and W. G. Buchanan; County Planning Commission Chairman J. P. Connors and State Senator George Miller Jr.

Also prominent at the luncheon was County Public Works Director Victor Sauer, under whose direction the Cummings Skyway was constructed, as part of the $10,250,000 county road bond program approved by the voters in 1952.

Knight in Armor Stalks Grid Field

A mysterious knight stalked the field at the Las Lomas-Diablo game last Friday night.

The new mascot of the Las Lomas Varsity was attired in silver armor with scarlet velveteen robes and plumes.

It is hoped that his presence will spur the Knights to victory at the bout with Pittsburg High School, tonight at 8 p.m.

Australia is New Residence

Guest of honor recently at the Fred Bloching home, 60 Summit Circle, Walnut Creek, was Mrs. George Coblenty Jr., who was to leave for Mt. Isah, Australia, where her husband is an engineer for Utah Construction Company.

Present were Mesdames Dave Chamberlin, Ian McLaughlin, Wayne Laine and Melvin Alamano.

Guard Non-Coms Planning Dance

The non-commissioned officers of Company C, 159th Infantry Regiment will hold a dance November 16 at the Walnut Creek Armory, 1800 Carmel Drive.

Hours will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Music will be by Jimmy Diamond and his band. Preparations are by Sgt. Calvin Moore. Sgt. Elmer Verhouse has additional information at YE 4-3876.

Rummage Sale Is Tomorrow

The Women's Missionary Society of the Church of God, 2449 Buena Vista, Walnut Creek, will hold a rummage sale tomorrow, beginning at 9 a.m., at the PG&E building, 1535 Bonanza.

Many articles in good condition will be offered. Mrs. Margaret Anderson of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Zee Young of Pleasant Hill will be in charge.

Deadline Wednesday

Next Wednesday is the deadline for filing California unemployment insurance wage reports and contributions returns for the third quarter of 1956, Anton Funke, auditor in charge for the State Department of Employment in Oakland reminds employers.

Household Items Sought By Red Cross

Red Cross representatives ask, "Do you have an old typewriter, still usable, or a small radio, stored somewhere in your garage or attic, no longer needed but 'to good to throw away'?

"The long hours of a local shut-in could be made happier by these items.

"Someone probably has a good bed, a chest of drawers or some small rugs, no longer used. A widow with very limited income badly needs such household articles.

"Your local Red Cross will pick up and deliver these items to the people in need of them if you will call Mrs. Ruth Basham, Mt. Diablo Chapter Home Service Secretary, YE 4-2647, or you may contact the Red Cross office, YE 5-5817."

Shriners Plan Halloween Fete On Saturday

The Contra Costa Shrine Club Hallowe'en party and dinner will be held Sautrday at the Marsh Creek Lodge, near Concord, with cocktails at 7 and dinner at 8 p.m.

More than 200 persons are expected to attend. Members and guests will be in informal attire. Members will bring a can of pineapple or 50 cents for contribution to the Shrine Hospital in San Francisco.

The Hallowe'en party will be followed by the Christmas Party for Shriners and their friends on December 8, in the Holy Ghost Hall, Boulevard Way, Walnut Creek.

Harry deHaas, of Martinez, will be chairman.

Members will meet for the annual dinner and election of officers on December 17, at Paul's Restaurant, Martinez.

Armless Vet From WC is Given Honor

Philip Bray, Walnut Creek resident who lost both arms in World War II combat, was awarded the annual achievement award of the California Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Saturday.

The 36-year-old local man was honored in San Jose, at the climax of the 30th annual meeting of the Easter Seal organization.

In a citation accompanying the award, Bray was saluted for "outstanding achievement in overcoming a severe disability" and providing "inspiration and encouragement to physically handicapped people everywhere."

Bray is married and has three children.

After being wounded and discharged from the army, he joined the Veterans Administration as a full time employee.

He quickly advanced to the position of chief of the prosthetic and sensory aids unit of VA in the San Francisco Regional office.

Wearing artificial arms himself, Bray is in position to understand the problems of disable veterans and to offer outstanding help to them, according to fellow Veterans Administration workers.

As one employee puts it, since he is an amputee he "talks the language of amputees."

Bray has been cited by superiors for his extensive adminstrative and technical knowledge. He supervises a weekly clinic for wearers of prosthetic devices, works with disabled veterans in acquiring prosthetic aids and has responsibility of inspection of devices issued through his organization.

Rughs Return From Travels

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Rugh recently returned from a trip which included Death Valley, Las Vegas, Hoover Dam, Grand Canyon, Bryce Canyon National Park, Salt Lake City, and Lake Tahoe.

"How old am I?"
asks Mrs. Charles Vellenga, 1221 Edgewood Road, Redwood City

She's a writer . . . an amateur photographer . . . and women's editor of a newspaper. But, most important of all, she's mother of a fine family. And, like so many of today's busy mothers, she looks years younger than her age.

Ever wonder why so many women look and feel so much younger these days? One good reason: Modern household appliances. They free women from so many chores that used to rob them of their youthful beauty.

Take Jean Vellenga, for instance. She leaves most of her hard work to labor-saving household appliances. And she's celebrating her 45th birthday this year.

Here's the beauty of it: With gas and electricity so cheap in California you can run a whole houseful of appliances all day for the price of a bottle of popular hand lotion.

SEEDS TO REFUGEES are distributed at Saigon by Franklin H. Ernst of Orinda, Agricultural Extension advisor for the U. S. Operations Mission to Vietnam. This distribution is part of an emergency program undertaken by the Extension Service.

Orindan Introduces 4-H Club Program to Vietnam

Spurred by the efforts of Orindan Dr. Franklin Ernst, 139 Canyon Drive, the American 4-H Club idea, introduced to Vietnam through the International Cooperation Administration, has rapidly caught the fancy of Vietnamese youth.

Dr. Ernst, who has just completed a two year assignment as an egricultural extension specialist in Vietnam and is now en-route home, established the first 4-H Club there in November, 1955.

He is accompanied by his wife, the former Miss Olive Johnson of Berkeley.

Dr. Ernst, who received a B.S. degree from the University of California, was with the University for 33 years, serving as a member of the California Agricultural Extension Service.

The introduction of 4-T, the equivalent of American 4-H clubs, has been so successful that there are now in Vietnam 125 clubs with a membership of over 2,000. In the Vietnamese language the four H's became Tri-oc (head), Tam long (heart), Tay (hand) and Than-the (health).

Members pledge themselves to maintain clear heads, strong hands, faithful hearts and good health for their country, just as is done in the 4-H clubs in America.

As in the American counterparts, a spirit of health competition is fostered among the members. While they learn to raise livestock and grow crops successfully, they vie with each other in producing the best chicken, hog or carrot.

Meetings are sponsored by groups of interested adults who discuss with them projects to be accomplished and ways and means of accomplishment. It is a practical and informal type of education supplement to their regular school work.

The clubs have been the means of testing 200 varieties of new crops for possible introduction into Vietnam. The youths recently held a national rally at the National Agricultural School at Blao in the highlands, which President Ngo-Dinh-Diem attended.

Ernst also organized a National Service of Agricultural Extension for the Vietnamese government, an innovation in this country.

The Service now has a staff of ten with 46 rural agents, in the provinces. In an emergency program the Extension Service distributed 5,000 weaned pigs to refugees, with 20,000 more to come this year.

A million baby chicks and thousands of fruit trees have also been made available to refugees to help them get started in this new land.

A home improvement project organized by the Extension Service has received great enthusiasm from the women of the two provinces where it has been tried and the program will be extended as soon as American supervising personnel can be recruited.

Ernst is one of approximately 4,000 American technicians — specialists in various fields — who are working in over 50 countries of the Free World, helping to advance the Mutual Security program.

ICA's partnership program is one of practical education through which the people are learning new techniques to enable them to create for themselves better education, better health, more and better food and to help them raise their standard of living.

President Eisenhower recently told Congress, "We must continue to work with other countries to insure that each free nation remains free, secure from external aggression and subversion, and able to develop a society marked by human welfare, individual liberty, and a rising standard of living."

Last Meets With Teachers Coming

The four remaining classroom meetings sponsored by the Orinda Mothers Club will be held next week and the following week.

These four room meetings, all at Sleepy Hollow School, will complete a full month's schedule involving all of Orinda's 73 classes.

The meetings have been well attended, and there has been an enthusiastic response from parents and teachers alike, according ot Mrs. Charles Erickson, Mothers Club president.

On next week's calendar are the following meetings, to be held in the Sleepy Hollow School library:

Monday, 7:45 p.m.—Mrs. Schubert's first grade.

Thursday, 7:45 p.m.—Mrs. Rossi's fourth-fifth grade

Job Office Now Has Student Division

Applications for part-time and holiday work for students and young people through junior college age in this area, to be referred to possible jobs in this area, are being accepted by the recently formed student division of the State Department of Employment in Berkeley.

The Berkeley office of the department has jurisdiction over Lafayette and Orinda. It is at 1375 University Avenue; the phone number is THornwall 3-1389. Manager of the new student division is Marjorie Walker. She has two assistants.

The manager states that employers in the Lafayette-Orinda area are invited to phone the office and list their needs for student age help. High school students, high school graduates and junior college students will be served by the office, she states.

Gladys Schwatka Now Court Research Head

Gladys Schwatka of 170 Orinda Highway, legal counsel for the Orinda Association, is now chief research attorney for State Supreme Court Associate Justice Marshall F. McComb in San Francisco.

She has closed her Orinda law office which had been at 11 Moraga Highway for about a year. However, she continues to serve as Orinda Association legal counsel.

Moraga Dateline

By EVA THUNE. DR 6-5593

The weather, always good for an opening comment, has really been giving us food for conversation of late.

That balmy, perfect climate, wonderful for outdoor work and leisure, disappeared overnight, bringing rain and cold winds — and we with clothes on the line.

The most encouraging sight, however, to the residents on Camine Pablo was that of large digging equipment rolling up the road to begin work on a drainage ditch, which should relieve the flood situation this winter.

POLITICOS SPEAK

At the last Moraga Community Club Board of Directors meeting, held at the home of Captain Harold Parker, on the night of October 16, it was decided to invite a number of candidates for offices to speak at the next club meeting, scheduled for tonight at the Moraga School, 8 p.m.

Those definitely to appear will be General Wallace, Mel Neilsen and Assemblyman Donald Doyle. It may be possible that others will also be there.

Announced by President Jack Winther were committee chairmen. For Membership, Dr. Nickel; Highway, Captain Parker; Civic Affairs, John Thune; and Publicity, Jack Winther.

Due to the fact that most people noticed the ommission of the coffee-social hour after the business meeting, the directors voted to again include this part of the evening, believing it to contribute to the cementing of friendships and closeness of the community.

An event to anticipate is the next Moraga Mother's Club meeting, to be held the first Wednesday night of the month, which will be November 7.

Scheduled for the Moraga School, it will be a potluck dinner for members and their husbands, served buffet style, and will start at 7 p.m.

An added attraction will be the showing of slides picturing old Moraga, as it was at it's beginning, progressing up to the present.

JOIN THE CROWD

New members are asked to contact Mrs. Jerry Tarpley, DR 6-5269, if you have not been called. A large crowd is expected and it is hoped that more will be able to attend.

Good news comes to those of us who have little Brownies in the family. in this area of Camino Pablo and Larch Road, Mrs. Louise Lynch is taking Brownie Basic Training at Pleasant Hill and Mrs. Mary Ellison will act as co-leader, with Mrs. Jo Rogers as troop chairman.

Last Sunday 14 Jr. Horsemen rode to the Captain Parker ranch and proceeded on a short ride through the hills. Instructions in grooming and saddling were given by Mr. Al Dimick. Each rider furnished his own lunch, but cake and lemonade was served by Mrs. Betty Parker.

Excitement runs high over preparations for the Halloween party and sale of prize tickets. Prizes include a clock-radio, television lamp and turkey which will be given Saturday night.

Last Saturday the Moraga Firehouse, with Chief Al Baitx and Lt. John Huff acting as hosts, entertained Girl Scout Troop 62, from the 5th grade at the Del Rey School in Orinda.

Jeannette Grendon, leader, and Moana Boster, co-leader, who accompanied the girls, reported that a thorough and interesting instruction course was given by Lt. Huff and that the troop was having a wonderful visit.

VALLEY VISITORS

Visitors in the valley included the Terzian family, on Scofield Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Barclay of Harold Drive.

Mrs. Elva Terzian entertained her mother, Mrs.A. H. Allen, and sister, Miss Nedra Allen, both of Fresno, for a visit of a couple of weeks.

This was their first visit to Moraga Valley, altho Mr. Allen remembers having visited St. Mary's College some years ago. Elva reports her mother was very impressed with our community and thoroughly enjoyed her visit here.

At the Barclay household, Mrs. Dorothy Barclay is enjoying a three week visit by her mother, Mrs. Estelle Horder of Madera, Calif. Mrs. Horder, who has some difficulty in getting around easily, has spent a good share of her time playing cards with Dorothy and enjoying our beautiful weather of the past weeks.

A BIG HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Edna Lance, who "celebrated" on October 19.

Charley Dickenson, who celebrated Tuesday and our Fire Chief, Al Baitx, who's birthday is on October 26, 1956. As Al said, "A lot of good people born in October."

News from the Ray Davis household, tells that Mary Louise, freshman at Mills College, has been elected to the Mills Dance Group, a real accomplishment for a freshman.

Heidi Devin is modeling for Lanz, dress line, on Market Week. Could it be a career in the making?

HOSPITALIZED

Admitted to Oak Knoll Naval Hospital, Commander Frank Adiams of Harold Drive, Moraga, underwent surgery Monday. His wife, Carolyn, tells me although he is getting up and walking, he isn't feeling too strong, and that he is scheduled to go through another operation within a week.

As Commander Adams expects to be attached to the hospital for another three or four weeks, mail can reach him through the hospital, Ward 69A.

Speaking of illnesses, word reaches me that there has been an outcropping of measles on Rheem Boulevard. Already ill is Teddy Kalives and Laney Tarplay, both attending Burton Kindergarten. Hope you are feeling fine now, kids.

Of interest to residents in our neighborhood, was the news of the marriage of Mr. Albert George, brother of Mrs. Alfred Ferreira, of Larch Road. The bride's name is Miss Loretta Marie Brabo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Brabo of Mill Valley, Calif.

The wedding was held at the Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church in Mill Valley. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Silva and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie McGlynn.

To lend a humorous note to the solemn proceedings was Ted George's losing of the groom's family. An usher, he misseated the family on the wrong side of the church.

As Albert has been living at the Ferreira home, he was known in the neighborhood. GOOD LUCK AND BEST WISHES!

School Halloween parties will be in full swing Wednesday when the Moraga School will have individual parties in each room. Arrangements have been made through Room Mothers.

Drive carefully — Save a life.

5th Birthday Livened By 'Davy Crockett'

An impromptu rendition of Davy Crockett by her guests enlivened Susan Shaw's birthday party recently. Susan, who was five, celebrated at her Overhill Road home with a luncheon party featuring deviled eggs, gay paper hats, and toy clothespins and clotheslines for favors.

Among those sharing the festivities were Cindy Stewart, Georgie Weston, Sally Sheldon, Ginny Van Emery, Ilyce Epstein, Linda Hill and Cindy Hoffman. Younger brothers Bobby, 3, and Harry, 2, were also eager participants.

Time Now to Get Set for Future!

Where is this community heading?

That's a question that would tax the abilities of even a professional sooth-sayer. But it's the sort of query which serious local residents constantly ask.

At the rate that this area and this town are growing, it is apparent that the local population will probably double in the next 10 to 15 years.

So it's not too soon to think of the many momentous problems that will face us in the future.

We have our growing pains today — but there is nothing to indicate that they will be lessened in the years to come.

If anything, as the years go on and more and more people move into the community, our problems will grow, rather than decrease.

No matter haw we feel about such things, we simply can't halt progress — and one phase of progress, whether we like it or not, is that people will continue to move into our community by the thousands.

After all, other people will have just as good reason to be attracted to this area as we have had.

And with more people constantly moving here, the many pressing problems will undoubtedly become more intense — and new problems will be added to the list.

If you doubt this, just consider for a moment some of our problems.

Roads, schools, local transportation, rapid transit, recreation, parking for commuters and in business areas, police protection, community library, community buildings and other facilities, town administration, coordination with neighboring communities — these are just a few of our problems.

Obviously, any and all of them will grow in importance as time goes on. Even solutions of one day must serve as a basis for further deliberations of the next day.

In this editorial we are not coming up with any solution to these problems. There's no magic wand we can wave.

The Sun has for some years been on record as favoring incorporation.

We have often mentioned Hillsborough, Atherton, Los Altos — and recently Saratoga — as examples of communities which incorporated to help solve their problems.

But the purpose of this editorial is not to "push" incorporation, but simply to offer "food for thought" about our community problems in general.

In other words, our aim here is to get us all to pause and think: What are the problems we as a community will face in the years to come?

You, Mr. and Mrs. Homeowner, have a big investment in your home and in your community.

It will be up to you to find the answers to these problems.

What They Say . .

Snow? Cold? What's That?

A chilling breeze whipped through The Sun editorial office the other day.

Your Roving Reporter pulled his khaki army blanket more tightly about his frail shoulders, looked out the window at the rapidly clouding skies and made ready for a long, hard winter.

But by the time he got back to his desk, arms laden with firewood and ears encased in muffs, the mercury had jumped upwards and Sol was making a mighty effort to extend the summer season.

REALIZING THE futility of preparing for a "real" winter, one remembered by so many new Californians and ostracized by our sunny climes, your nosey newshound wondered how locals felt about living in an area of a perpetual dawning of summer.

Asking, "Do you ever feel you'd like to live in an area where winter is a distinct and snowy season?" here's what he learned:

Mrs. Perry Harner, a native of Berkeley, has never felt a soft snow flurry swirl about her checks or the sharp, invigorating sting of winter's cold . . . but she thinks she'd like to.

The Orinda lady, of 142 El Toyonal, said she often thinks about genuine winters and would "like snowfall just for the aesthetic thrill."

"NO, THANK YOU," was the reply of Mrs. Bernard W. Sheldon, 112 Overhill Road, Orinda, when asked if she'd like to live in a snowy area.

"I was born and raised in New Jersey," she answered, "and I never want to go back."

There was a time when Mrs. Pierre Pellissier, 3728 Sundale Road, Lafayette, felt that she'd like to live through a Chicago winter, "just to see what it's like."

BUT WHEN SHE finally got to that city, the winter season was past and "I've never had the desire to live in a snowy sector of the country since," she reported.

During the winter here, however, Mrs. Pellisier does travel to snow-capped mountains for skiing.

"No, I wouldn't. In fact neither my husband nor I would like to live in that sort of country. We've always lived in California," said Mrs. Sheridan W. Hale of 850 Seven Hills Ranch Road, Walnut Creek.

"I DON'T believe so. We like to ski but we don't feel that living in snow country would be too advantageous. We do make trips to the snow but like the weather around here much better," answered Mrs. Keith S. Hall of 143 Doray Drive, Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. John E. Grieve, 64 Viking Drive, Pleasant Hill, told The Sun:

"Yes, I enjoy the snow country very much. Our children Robin, 4, and Becky, 2, have never seen the snow and I rather doubt if they will in the near future. You see we take our vacations in the summer now rather than during the winter months. There's nothing like snow around Christmas time."

Mrs. Edmond A. Goodding, 1922 Vicki Lane, Walnut Creek, informed us that she was from the snow country but preferred mild weather such as this area affords. Her husband is from California and her two daughters have never seen the snow.

Planning League Delays Meet, Scores Supervisors

The annual meeting of the Planning League of Contra Costa County, scheduled for this month, has been postponed indefinitely, President Bill Somerton announced yesterday.

"The league has been inactive during the past several months, due to the lack of cooperation it has received from county officials, in particular the Board of Supervisors," Somerton said.

"It is hoped that the league's activities may be resumed after the November election and replacement of the present Second District Supervisor," he added.

"IN THE MEANTIME the officers and Board of Directors of the league will remain in office on a standby basis. All correspondence will be handled by the league's secretary, Dick Nesbitt, 716 Rosewood Drive, Walnut Creek."

Somerton recalled that "the Planning League was founded by members of the predecessor organization, the Independent Citizens Committee for Planning."

"The latter group," Somerton said, "was instrumental in defeating the proposed one-quarter acre maximum lot size zoning of Contra Costa County.

"IT ALSO INTRODUCED the concept of modern planning to county officials.

"A similar situation is confronting the county at the present time. This is in reference to the 'densities of general plan,' concept recently adopted by the County Planning Commission. This is an excellent modern planning concept which gives desired flexibility in zoning to account for variations in topography, the proximity of major roads and other factors.

"If improperly interpreted and administered, as has been the case with many of our zoning regulations in this county, the 'density' concept could be used by subdividers and promoters to cut down on lot sizes and thus considerably increase the growing congestion. In effect, we could end up with a maximum lot size of one-third acre in the county.

"A REASONABLE interpretation would be to balance lot sizes within a density range to the midpoint value of the range.

"Thus the high density area would average 6 families per net acre with a permissible range of 5-7 families per net acre. Likewise medium density areas would average 4 families with a range of 3-5 families per net acre, and low density would average 1½ families with a range of 0-3 per net acre.

"In the last case, for each acre subdivided into one-third acre lots, there should be three one-acre lots provided by the subdivider. Likewise for every acre subdivided into one-half acre lots, there should be one one-acre lot provided.

"This interpretation, if followed within reason, should lend itself ideally to the type of terrain common to Lafayette."

2-COUNTY TRANSIT

Dear Editor:

Mony voters remain confused about the Alameda-Contra Costa County Transit District up for vote on the November ballot.

This is primarily for local public transportation in the two counties. It is entirely separate from the Bay Area Rapid Transit System and would never compete with it; rather it would provide feeder service.

And, the two county service could be brought into existence many years before the Rapid Transit Ssytem, thus providing service that is needed now.

In Contra Costa County it offers a great opportunity for local service throughout the many newly-developed area which are remote from the present, sketchy bus service which traversese only the main highway.

Those who fear heavy tax increases should understand that the forthcoming election does not undertake to lay on any heavy expense burden; it provides only for organization of a district and election of directors who will make studies and draw plans for a proposed first-class transportation system.

Then, after the plans are presented to and understood by the public, another election will be held to find out if the public wants such a system and will vote in favor of a bond issue. Thus the determining vote lies in the future.

This two-county system offers so much opportunity to improve living conditions in Contra Costa County, as well as help Alameda County in its present difficulties, that I strongly urge everyone to vote now in favor of the preliminary investigation of an Alameda-Contra Costa County Transit Distrist, so we can at least find out what kind of a chance we may have to obtain good public transportation.

JOHN E. McKIRAHAN.

MORE ABOUT TRANSIT

Dear Editor:

I for one appreciate the space you have given the proposed Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District. If additional comment is still welcome, I would like to bring up another reason for rejecting the proposed district at the polls.

Transit is a metropolitan problem, along with highways, smog, water, sewage and garbage disposal, regional planning, etc. In this context metropolitan means a large central city or cities and the adjoining commuter suburbs . . .

IN PRACTICE there have been three approaches to such problems. The first is to consolidate all local government in the area into one super-city. Its drawbacks include the loss of local community identity and of close citizen participation in government.

The second is the creation of a new independent special district as each problem arises. The East Bay Municipal Utility District was our first step in this direction, and the transit district would be our second.

Such districts — there are others elsewhere in California — perform a single special purpose, have a separately-elected governing board and are in no way officially related to the communities within their boundaries. Therefore it has been impossible to maintain, among the voters at large, sufficient interest or understanding for effective public control of such districts . . .

THE THIRD APPROACH is a truly metroplitan agency or district whose governing board consists of the cities and counties concerned. This guarantees responsibility to the voters through the established channels of community civic leadership.

It guarantees intergovernmental cooperation, as well as balance and flexibility, in dealing with our emerging metropolitan problems. And it has worked, with such examples as the Metropolitan Water District in Southern California, the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, and the Toronto (Canada) Meropolitan Council, which performs a variety of functions . . .

To conclude, I feel our East Bay metropolitan area would be proceeding in the wrong direction with this proposed district. Instead we should seek enabling legislation for metropolitan districts that would be controlled by our existing local governments. If, in the interim, the Key System should actually cease functioning, the cities which it serves could jointly take it over and operate it on an emergency basis.

PRETTY PICTURES

Dear Editor:

I read in last week's Sun that the State engineers were showing "pretty pictures" of the cross-sections of the proposed freeway route No. 4 with tall pine trees growing between it and the homes.

These pine trees are non-existent, but our beautiful oak trees are—and if the state route is chosen most of these trees will be cut down.

Do they think pictures of pine trees will console us?

I think that I shall never see
A Freeway lovely as a tree
They'll rip them up and tear them down
If a Freeway slashes cross our town.

They'll roar and rumble through our hills
They'll drive us all to sleeping pills
They say to us, "We'll plant a tree
Do not fear. We'll do it free."

Hold your nose and plug your ears
See no evil! Have no fears!
Though trucks roar, down grade so steep
Keep in mind, "It's short and cheap!"

The roar and rumble, smoke and smell
Will not be noticed the State does tell
Pretty pictures they do show,
Pine trees growng, row on row!

"But where's the freeway?" we do ask
"Such a gash a tree won't mask!
A section view, a tall pine tree
And they think that's all that we will see?"

As dozers gash their way down hill
They cut and tear and push the fill.
We'll moan and groan, wish we were dead!

When trucks race down without a brake
Don't complain, for goodness sake.
For when you end up in a heap,
Don't forget, "It's short and cheap!"

Freeways are built by fools like me
Down mountain sides for all to see;
The noise and smell we all will reap,
But keep in mind, "It's short and cheap!"

(Name witheld on request)

JOBS FOR YOUNGSTERS

Dear Editor

For weeks I have been wanting to write you . . . I wanted to tell you that I, for one, appreciate your contribution in helping youngsters find jobs during the summer months.

You afforded not only material assistance, but possibly more important, you demonstrated the effectiveness of an important idea.

It is indeed a very pleasant experience to find someone who does not stop at just talking about an important problem, but proceeds to actually do something.

County Superintendent of Schools.

Candidates! Elections! Campaigns! Politics!

How I wish this election were over. The Republicans are unhappy with us. The Democrats are unhappy with us. Proponents of Proposition 4 are unhappy because last week we recommended a NO vote.

One supervisorial candidate, district 2, is displeased with The Sun because one week his opponent had a news story printed and he didn't. (Of course, he forgot that he failed to turn in a news release that week.) Backers of the other supervisorial candidate are unhappy because the opponent had his picture on the society page.

Brother and sister, you simply can't win.

"Well," said Snoopy, the office cat, "I've been reading your woeful story as you typed it and I feel so sorry for you. If you want sympathy, brother, I'd suggest two things. First, head for the nearest chaplain. Second, get out of the newspaper business. When you became an editor, did you think everyone would pat you on the head each week and compliment you?"

Hear our sad story

Now, Snoopy, take it easy. Speaking for The Sun staff, I think we have a just complaint. When it comes to elections and politics, we just cant' seem to please anyone. Everyone is trying to get his pet candidate or party into a picture or news story — and it simply can't be done.

"Boss, you're supposed to be an editor and isn't it your job to edit?" Snoopy asked.

Thank you, Snoopy, for you have corraborated the staff's final decision. We have been having so much screaming over pictures, in particular, that two weeks ago we almost decided not to publish any more election pictures. Then, the six of us on the news staff looked at each other for a few minutes and shook our collective heads. We agreed it is our job to select and edit.

We repeat our policy

We restated our policy: The emphasis on pictures will be local people in news-worthy events. Our news columns are not to be used to further the candidacy of either party or any candidate. Unfortunately, some candidates are more newsworthy or are more adept at jumping in front when our cameramen are out. This, incidentally, has become a problem, because our free-lance cameramen often don't know who is and who isn't a candidate.

At one time, Republican organizations received much, much more space than the Democrats in this area because they were much more active. In the past few years, the Democrats have been equally active — and sometimes more so. Occasionally, we remember our registration figures which show a very heavy predominance of Republicans in this area.

Extra special attention

This was so on our coverage of the big Republican Sunday afternoon party at the Dollar Ranch just before the GOP convention. It was a news-worthy event with thousands of people involved and deserved extra-special coverage. And we did it. One Democrat became unhappy the next week we turned down a 100 per cent campaign shot.

Over the years, we have learned that you can't win. But we still try. We try to do on honest job of being as fair as is possible. And we will continue trying. But, Snoopy, old pal, it's a tough job.

Valley Art Center Rental Gallery Gets Good Start

Gaiety, good cheer and a thriving rental business sparked the party last Friday afternoon and evening marking the autumn preview of the Rental Gallery at the Valley Art Center, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

Among the first guests to arrive was Mrs. C. J. Foskett of Concord, who holds the distinction of making the first purchase from the Artists Market when it opened four and a half years ago. This time she chose Persian tile cuff links by Leon Dinkin.

FROM THE MOMENT the doors opened at 5 p.m. a continous stream of guests poured into the Center, and at 9, when the party was theoretically over, they were still arriving.

Elaine and George Hansen quickly decided on a lovely watercolor by Jade Fon. Hilda Dix was busy trying to find a long vertical painting for a special place. Mr. and Mrs. Hardin Jones left with Betty Pleshe's painting.

Mrs. Cedric Wright bought a pot made by Jacomena Maybeck. Bonnie and Dave Borton took home to Concord a bright Klee-like non-objective painting signed by David Simpson. Marianne and Harvey Powelson remarked on Jonathan Batchelor's powerful abstraction.

Pat St. John Moran was just back from a flying trip to New England with her mother to enjoy the autumn color of the Adirondacks. Earl Thollander's "Refinery" was selected by Mary and Stan Kwiat for their home in Walnut Creek. Harriet and J. Gordon Ainsworth chatted with Mabel Powell and Barbara and Bill Picard, and everybody wished J. Gordon success on his hunting trip.

HOSTESSES Mary Kwiat, Barbara Merrill, Marjory Hoversten and Edith Dinkin greeted the guests. Evadne Wenker wrote up rental and sales slips. Ernest Hoversten and Leon Dinkin helped Stan Kwiat at the bar.

Loretta Jenings admired jewelry by Connie Helm and the handsome "City Lights" made by Eleanor Condon in the mosaic class being taught by Bella Feldman at the home of the Peter Howards.

Michael Czaja, president of the Center, came in with Stevie and his daughter, Toni, and bought a piece of Dr. David Harris' jewelry.

Fashion Show Is Thursday

Final plans are well under way for the Mt. Diablo Business and Professional Women's Club Fashion Show "Adam and Eve of 1956" at Diablo Country Club on Thursday evening.

Lillian Luke, at VE 7-6033 or VE 7-4191, has tickets for $2.50.

According to Claire O'Neal, general chairman, and Scotty Pencovic, co-chairman, business "men-about-town" will show the finest togs from Clark's Country Squire and The Yankee Sports Shop, Danville: Seemes Gordon, Wayne Hawkins, Carlton Bayley, Bill Shannon, Bill Hockins, Russell Glenn, Kemper Chastain, Bob Kellog.

Modeling the latest fashions from Country Girl, Walnut Creek, Hare'l Furs and Hazel's Hats, Walnut Creek, and Kerr-Leggett Hand Knits, Danville, will be Kay Harr, Rhoda Owen, Gladys Ryan, Lillian Betz, Alvina Lindsey, La Prelle Hausknecht, Margorite Frombola.

Frankie Mensor, Barbara Christian, Margaret Marks, Gail Lindsey, Valerie Betz, Mona Evans. Also modeling will be Champion Arcady Fandango, a French Poodle.

Wine Sipping To Highlight Gala Party

The afternoon of Sunday, November 4, has been selected by the parents of the Lafayette Nursery School for their fall wine-tasting party.

To be held from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Banquet Room of Pioneer Village, Lafayette, this gala event will be open to the public and all are invited to attend.

In charge of arrangements for the affair is a committee led by Mrs. Alvin Mangini and including the Mesdames Douglas Kilbourn, Horace Firth, Neil Sadler, Fletcher Young, Donald Kennedy, and Paul Amonson.

On hand for the enjoyment of the sampling visitors will be eight different kinds of wines from one of California's finest wineries, poured by the vintner's representatives, who are qualified and pleased to answer any and all questions about their products.

Tickets are $1.25 and are available from any member of the nursery school. They can also be obtained by phoning Mrs. Mangini at AT 4-4266.

Proceeds from the party will be used to provide new equipment and better play facilities for the school.

The younger contingency of the nursery school, too, is looking forward to exciting activities next week. In costumed glory the children will flock to school on Tuesday and Wednesday to partake of such Halloween festivities as mask-making and cookie-baking and consuming, all sharing the holiday fun.

Alamo Mother's Heavenly Holidays is November 14

Mrs. Frank Buck, general chairman of the "Heavenly Holidays Show," Alamo Mothers' Club's big fund raising event for this year, held a meeting of her committee chairmen at the home of Mrs. Harold Williams, Bolla Avenue, Alamo.

The luncheon and fashion show will be held November 14 at the Diablo Country Club.

William Sawyer of Angela Avenue will be the master of ceremonies for the party.

The public is invited. Tickets have been mailed to the mothers of the school children; others are available through the ticket committee — Mrs. Willard Reinheimer and Mrs. A. C. Peays or Mrs. George Peterson, president of Mothers' Club and Mrs. Harold Williams.

A reservation by November 1 is necessary, and must be made by calling Mrs. George Wagner, Mrs. Bradley Bogue, Mrs. R. W. Morgan, Mrs. John Ashford or Mrs. Paul Bohr.

A general discussion of plans followed with other workers named: Decorations: Mrs. Lloyd Kelley, Mrs. Wayne Rutherford and Mrs. Angelo Muzzini. Tables and Programs: Mrs. M. Carleton Yoder, Mrs. H. H. Hargrove, Mrs. Richard W. Smith, Mrs. George F. Wagner and Mrs. Jack Taylor. Prizes: Mrs. William Sawyer. Door Prizes: Mrs. Jack Chapman, Mrs. Joseph Smith. Christmas Tree: Designed by Mrs. Warren Garrison and attended by Mrs. Alfred Jones, Mrs. Albert McClure and Mrs. Henry K. Evans.

Benefit Drawing: Mrs. Thomas Brighton, Mrs. William Boyd, Mrs. Louise Plummer, Mrs. James Herriot, Mrs. Norman Bing and Mrs. Blaine Dixon. Staging: Mrs. Harold Williams, Mrs. Tom Cole, Mrs. Vernon Buls, Mrs. Jay Irvin, Mrs. John Hutchison, Mrs. Patrick Selak, Mrs. Roy Price, and Mrs. Jack Taylor. Music: Mrs. Charles Huestis, piano and Mrs. Albert B. Marshall, harp. Make-up, Mrs. Ken Davis.

Models: Mrs. Kenneth Street, Mrs. Wallace Cook, Mrs. Mark Mills, Mrs. Robert Hart, Mrs. A. J. Lazzareschi, Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Mrs. Wayne Schlosser, Mrs. James King, Mrs. Harold Williams. Modeling clothes for children will be: Mary Anne Flett, Patricia Buls, Deborah Selak, Steven Street, Mark Williams and Dan Sherman.

Men, Boys to Get In on Fall Flair and Fashions

A fashion show that will include men and boys, as well as girls and women, accompanies the dinner that will be one of the highlights of the Fall Fair and Fashions starting at noon, November 3.

The Fair is sponsored by all the circles of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Lafayette Community Methodist Church.

Both the social hall and the new educational building will be used for the event.

"Something for everyone" will be the feature of the Fall Fair . . . imported toys and games for the children, ties and gifts for men, table linens and handwork, holiday handmade candles and Christmas decorations for women, in addition to baked goods, delicatessen items and candies.

The full-course baked-ham dinner will be served at 5 p.m. with later servings at 6 and 7 o'clock.

Chairmen, headed by Mrs. Ralph Winters, are:

Mrs. William Banks, in charge of the dinner; Mrs. Robert Fredman, fashion show; Mrs. Charles Gass, linen table; Mrs. Ray McNairy, candles and decorations.

Mrs. William Takahashi, toys and games; Mrs. Pat Tower, men's ties and gifts; Mrs. Jess Mendenhall, food booth and candy; Mrs. Ned Floyd, music; Mrs. Herbert Christman, tickets.

Proceeds of this Fall Fair will go to support the youth program of the Lafayette Community Methodist Church.

BOTH "ADAM AND EVE" will get into the act Thursday, when the Mt. Diablo Business and Professional Women's Club holds a fashion show at the Mt. Diablo Country Club. These young moderns are, left to right, Bill Hockins and Kay Harr, both of Danville, Alvina Lindsey of Lafayette, and Russ Glenn of Danville.

'Autumn Leaves' Fall as Folk Dancers Cavort

"Autumn Leaves" was the theme for the regular monthly folk dance party for Acalanes Folk Dancers held recently in Danville at the Veterans Hall. The hall was decorated with maple leaves and grape vines in a very colorful effect.

Callers for the square dances were Charlie Reilly of Walnut Creek, Taylor Holt of Martinez and Rick Benofsky from Lafayette.

The committee for the evening consisted of Winnie and Stan McGlauflin and Teya and Burly Bullock from Walnut Creek, and Marian and Bob Horonjeff of Lafayette.

After the dancing, refreshments were served, following which President Dick Banwell presided at a short business meeting. Miniature tom-toms were given out to the group publicizing the coming special party, November 3, which is to be in the Indian theme.

Senior Citizen's Group to Offer Recreation, Socials

A new organization, designed to offer recreation and sociability to senior citizens, is being formed in Lafayette.

Feeling a need for such a community-wide group, several sponsors are formulating plans for the Lafayette Senior Citizens Recreation Center.

The first meeting of the new organization, one of introduction and registration, will be held next Thursday at 1 p.m. in the Veterans Memorial Building, Lafayette.

MEETINGS THEREAFTER will be held the first and third Thursday of each month, with one of the major purposes to offer friendship to senior citizens new to the community.

Blossoming out of and combining two similar local organizations, the center is being sponsored by seven local women. They are:

Mrs. R. T. Duncan, Mrs. Earl Craeger, Mrs. Don Patton, Miss Emily Palmer, Mrs. W. W. Ornduff, and Mrs. E. H. Miller, all of Lafayette, and Mrs. Julie Hanna of Orinda.

SEVERAL OF THE sponsors have been members of a senior women's organization which has been meeting for the past seven years as the Golden Keys. Mesdames Ornduff, Miller and Hanna began another group for the same purpose.

But, according to Mrs. Duncan, these groups, which met at individual homes, had full memberships, but "weren't beginning to reach the number of people we wanted."

As the new organization calls for volunteer hostesses and donors, next Thursday's meeting will consist mostly of registering new members . . . finding out their hobbies, talents and interests. A contribution of 25 cents per meeting will be asked each person, to cover necessary expenses.

MRS. DUNCAN stated that the group has stirred much interest, but still needs workers and financial aid to help it get started.

Donations may be sent to Miss Emily Palmer, 746 St. Mary's Road, Lafayette.

General information may be obtained from Mrs. Laura Harrison, AT 3-3342.

Luncheon is Today

The Women's Auxiliary of the East Bay Dental Societies will have a noon luncheon today in the L'Horizon Room of the Hotel Claremont.

The program will feature a talk on "New Concepts in Television" by James Day. He is general manager of Channel 9, KQED-TV.

'Heidi' Leads Models as 800 Watch Fashion Show

Members of Heidi chapter of the Children's Home Society greeted 800 guests at their eighth annual Luncheon and Fashion Show given at the Castlewood Country Club last week.

The pre-luncheon scene was a fashion show itself, as smartly attired groups greeted friends in the spacious lounge of the club and then assembled at the gaily decorated tables, which carried out the "Venetian Ventures" theme.

Mrs. R. G. Falk and Mrs. J. P. Hermann prepared the Italian flavored decorations.

Greetings were extended by Mrs. Gilbert Myers, Heidi president, and Mrs. Robert Lockey, general chairman of the successful party.

Little Lois Tulloch starred in the role of 1956 "Heidi" as she lead the models and then helped Mrs. Jack Campbell select lucky winners.

The very lovely Mink stole was won by Mrs. George Martinson of Lafayette; the electric chafing dish by Mrs. David Robb of Danville, and jewelry by Mrs. Frank A. Marshall of Walnut Creek.

The show was commentated by Carol MacAndrews of United Air Lines and modeled by 12 ladies in clothes from H. Leibes of San Francisco.

All proceeds from this party will go to the Children's Home to further its work in properly placing children available for adoption.

The Children's Home is a statewide agency, founded 65 years ago, and serves all races and creeds. Maintained through voluntary contributions, the C.H.S. helps to give a child his own home and his own parents.

ANNA HEAD ALUMNAE of this area are busy with preparations for the general meeting of the alumnae next Friday, at which members of the classes of 1940 through 1945 will be honored. Discussing plans for the event are three local-area alumnae—left to right, Mrs. William Magrath, Mrs. Calvin Duncan and Mrs. Richard Schutte. Mrs. Duncan is president of the Anna Head Alumnae. Mesdames Magrath and Schutte are among the graduates who will be honored. The three are shown at the home of Mrs. R. W. Breuner in Orinda. —Sun photo by Mattson

Guests Don Serapes at Meadowbrook Club Fiesta

The Mexican Fiesta cocktail party and buffet supper held at Meadowbrook Golf Club last Saturday, drew approximately 95 guests and members.

The party committee was headed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boone of Berkeley and included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Clark Jr. of Martinez; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Schlaman of Walnut Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moran of Montclair; Mr. and Mrs. George Gill of Concord; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Guarneri of Orinda.

An important part of the committee's planning was decorating. Walls of the party rooms were hung with fiesta skirts from Mexico, bull fighters' capes and sombreros ranging in size from the very tiny to a magnificent specimen six feet in diameter.

Serapes in varied colors with Aztec designs were provided for and donned by each guest as he entered the scene. Several female guests wore attractive "squaw" dresses for the occasion.

Mrs. Edward Moran was among these, wearing a handsome model bought during a recent circle tour of the Western states and Canada.

The charming clubhouse grounds were transformed into a scene of Nahuatlan gayety. Pool lights and lights on surrounding lawns and terraces were in Mexican colors strangely like nature's own Indian summer hues as displayed by huge old trees of the former Probert estate.

Many guests were lured out onto the front terrace after dinner for dancing by this scene and the harvest moon.

Gathering for liquid refreshments before dinner were not only original members but also home of recent 50 new members of the club.

The Hubert Esry's of Lafayette had as guests Mr. and Mrs. William J. Weiskirch of Lafayette. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kitley of Walnut Creek were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ward Jr., of same city, while Mr. Everett Gooddale of Sacramento accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Lahey of Happy Valley, Lafayette.

Guests chose from a buffet which included a variety of tortilla appetizers, enchiladas, tacos, refried beans, tamales, chili pepper sauce, hard rolls, (tall glasses of water) and coffee.

Church Gala Will Include Two Meals

The annual Makahiki-Bazaar of St. Paul's Episcopal Parish, Walnut Creek, is scheduled for next Friday and Saturday, at 1924 Walnut Avenue.

Numerous booths in the parish hall and church school building will offer attractive items for sale such as handmade doll clothes, ceramics, plants for house and garden, and an assortment of baked goods, say planners.

Luncheon will be served next Friday from 11:30 to 1:30 under the direction of Mrs. E. Wells Smith. The Versity will serve dinner Saturday evening from 5:30 to 8:00.

Others serving on the Makahiki-Bazaar Committee include the following: Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Alexander, general chairmen; H. P. Smith, merchandising chairman; Forrest Janssen, coordinator; W. W. Lynch, treasurer; Mrs. A. N. Harlow, secretary.

Mrs. J. H. Taylor, chairman of crafts and sewing; and Mrs. I. C. Jensen, children's activities.

In charge of booths are Mrs. G. E. Doty, ceramics; Mrs. R. H. Moore, sewing; Mrs. M.H. Haase, green thumb; Mrs. Paul Gailus, white elephants and treasure trove; Mrs. R. D. Emory, baked goods; Mrs. J. J. Pangburn, doll clothes; Mrs. H. P. Smith, Christmas gifts; Mrs. J. A. Millar, doll beds; and Mrs. F. F. Carter, Sno-Ko booth.

The Makahiki-Bazaar is open to the general public.

Mountain Folk's Weaving to be Sold by Alumnae

The Contra Costa Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi is sponsoring a sale of exquisite hand weaving next Friday at 10 a.m. at the Lafayette home of Mrs. G. R. Kilborn, 3549 Wilkinson Lane.

The weaving, from Gatlinburg, Tenn., was done in homes in the Tennessee mountains under the supervision of Arrowcraft Shop of the Settlement School, which gives vocational training as well as high school and elementary education to the mountain people.

The public is invited to attend the informal sale. Lafayette residents Mesdames Robert Preece, William Hobbs, Robert Boud and William Kaiser will serve refreshments.

Further information may be obtained from Chairman Mrs. George Dibble, AT 3-3169.

Aileen Clay Is Eastern Star Matron

Aileen Clay was elected worthy matron of the Silver Chalice Chapter 590 of the Order of Eastern Star, October 12.

Other new officers are Arthur Symonds, worthy patron; Peggy Unger, associate matron; Edward Frazer, associate patron; Barbara Sipes, conductress; Dorothy Melvin, associate conductress; Chrys Dowell, secretary, and Margaret Symonds, treasurer.

Julia Pattson is past worthy matron and John Dewey is past worthy patron.

After the election, held in the Walnut Creek Masonic Temple, chapter members were entertained by the "Sweet Adelines," a women's singing group.

Dorothea Gibble was program chairman.

Adoption Group Aids Homeless

The new president, Mrs. Edward Dunlap, presided over the September meeting of the Diablo Adoption Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. Donald H. Fibush, 3350 Springhill Road, Lafayette.

Miss Muriel Nelson, supervisor of the Adoption Unit of Contra Costa County Social Service Department, reported that the agency has made 20 adoptive placements during the summer. She also reported that there have been some referrals of Minority adoptive couples from March.

Members voted to write their congressmen urging the renewal of the "Refugee Relief Act of 1953" after an interesting report on the efforts of an American couple to adopt Greek children.

Anyone interested in the Diablo Adoption Auxiliary may contact Mrs. Russell Usinger, CL 4-5106, or Mrs. David Bowman, YE 5-0901. Questions pertaining to adoption may be addrdessed to the Question and Answer Service, P.O. Box 44, Lafayette.

CHRYSANTHEMUM LOVERS are these members of the Chrysanthemum Study Club of the East Bay: Dr. Ira Cross of Berkeley, Mrs. Strictzky and Mrs. Robert Jacobson of Lafayette. The club will hold a preview tour of flower-decked homes tomorrow and Saturday, and the sixth annual show next weekend in Walnut Creek. —Sun photos by Elizabeth vander Mark

Center to Dine, Dance

A Pot Luck Dinner and Dance, honoring new members, is planned for the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

An invitation to attend is extended to all center members, as well as prospective members, by Mrs. Sy Sherman of Walnut Creek, social chairman.

The committee for the affair, which is expected to attract over 140 participants, includes Mr. and Mrs. Harry Delmont, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Greenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Daneiko of Walnut Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Murray Mattal and Mr. and Mrs. David Spellman of Lafayette; Dr. and Mrs. Jack Koota of Pleasant Hill; and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Abend of Orinda.

Each couple is asked to furnish a main dish, salad, or dessert. There will be no admission charge but for reservations, phone Mrs. Sherman, YE 5-5843.

TV Stars Will 'Look at Books'

Stars of the television show "Lets Look at Books," Lew Lengfeld and Fran Pillsbury, will entertain Lafayette Women's Club Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Veterans Memorial Building.

Membership Chairman Mrs. Harold E. Mutnick will introduce new members to the club who will be honored at the tea following the program.

Co-hostesses of the affair, Mrs. Ray Heffner and Mrs. Vincent Lombardo, will help hospitality chairman Mrs. E. T. Bogardus.

Mrs. Ellen Jackson, tea chairman for the day, will be assisted by Mrs. Dwight Birch, Mrs. John G. Stephens, Mrs. Fred Peglow and Mrs. T. E. Jeffries.

Linnet Unit Holds Meeting At Pennock's

The 7 Hills Ranch Road home of Mrs. Frank Pennock was the setting for the monthly business meeting of the Linnet Unit, Mt. Diablo Therapy Center on Monday morning.

Mrs. E. N. Boyce and Mrs. Carlton Hawes were co-hostesses for dessert luncheon served at the close of the meeting.

This group operates the Therapy Thrift Shop on 1547 East Street, Walnut Creek for the benefit of the Center.

Among other items of business on Monday was the decision to accept financial responsibility for the furnishing and decorating of the reception room at the new Therapy Center building to be completed early in November.

Mrs. E. P. Laws and Mrs. Chester Hook are co-chairmen in charge of shop merchandising. They report specials at the Shop this week will include rain-wear, records, and three floor lamps. Two of these lamps match, are reflector type and are in excellent condition.

Mrs. F. E. Forsburg will be chairman today, assisted by Mrs. T. E. Sorensen and Mrs. Frederick Confer.

Art Center Tea November 8 to Fete Sponsors

A tea honoring the sponsors of the Orinda Art Center will be held at the home of Mrs. Kerry Keresey, 47 Orchard Road, Orinda, on Thursday afternoon, November 8.

Assisting Mrs. Keresey in hostess duties will be Mrs. Ben Olsen, chairman, and Mrs. J. P. Ratcliff.

Other members on the board for the coming year include:

Mrs. Spencer Archer, Mrs. Thomas Connolly, Carlton Moore, E. Julian Unruh, William C. Hagens, T. H. Harrer, Charles Gibbs, James Lindsay, Harold R. Jones, T. H. Harrer, Kirk Miles, Boone Robinson, Ralph C. Glass, Tevis Thompson and Boyd G. Eubanks.

The Orinda Art Center is beginning its seventh year in Orinda and is offering Modern Dance, Drama and Saturday morning Art Classes to over 250 children.

Vernon Kidd, Oklahoma Girl Are Married

Vernon Kidd of Danville was married October 14 to the former Frances Beth Hood Lacy of Kiowa, Okla., and the couple will live in Danville, after a honeymoon at Carmel-by-the-sea.

The ceremony was at the Walnut Creek Methodist Church. The Rev. Philip Solbjor officiated.

The bride chose a ballerina length gown of talisman pink nylon marquisette over net with matching satin shoes.

Her headpiece was of talisman roses in a tiara design and she carried a bouquet of talisman roses centered with a white orchid over her white bible.

Her honor attendant, Mrs. Mathew G. Farr, was gowned in blue satin and lace and carried an old fashioned bouquet of yellow roses.

Sorority to Hold Reunion

Contra Costa Chapter of Phi Mu sorority will join Northern California alumnae and collegiates for a Reunion Day tomorrow at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley.

The East Bay alumnae chapter and UC collegiate chapter members will be hosts to visiting Phi Mu alumnae and collegiates from San Jose and Fresno State at a coffee hour beginning at 10 a.m. in the Berkeley campus chapter house. A no-host luncheon at the Claremont will be highlighted by an address to be given by Mrs. Carl D. Benninghoven, Hillsborough, national president of Phi Mu.

Tour Party to Stop in Lafayette

The Lafayette home of Mrs. Bernard Stock, 3215 Camino Colorados, will be open to members and guests of Kim Chapter of Children's Home Society as they tour nine homes during an "At Home" party next Thursday.

Party-goers, who will visit eight homes in Berkeley, Piedmont and El Cerrito, aside from Mrs. Stock's, will find prizes and refreshments in the local residence.

Mrs. Stock will be assisted by Mrs. William Kruse of Lafayette and Mrs. Robert McNary of Berkeley.

Proceeds of the party will go toward the work of the Children's Home Society, a member of the United Crusade of the Bay Area, which for 65 years has been giving adoption service to communities throughout California.

UN Dance At Elks Club Is Tomorrow

An "International Ball" will be held tomorrow night at 9 in the Elks Club ballroom, under the sponsorship of the Mt. Diablo Council for the United Nations.

The event is to climax United Nations Week, a national observance.

Music will be provided by Bob Soder and his orchestra.

Guests will be about 30 foreign students, who have been attending area high schools. Some of them plan to wear native costumes.

Tickets can be reserved by calling YE 4-4128 or YE 4-3946, according to Mrs. John Oddy.

Jrs., JayCees to Join at Social

The Lafayette Surburban Juniors and the Lafayette Jaycees will hold a joint social and costume ball at the Lafayette Town Hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

This social marks the first combined activity of the two organizations.

Chairmen and committee members for the event are:

Mildred Grothman and Jack Hansen, general chairmen; Mrs. Lee Schell and Mrs. John Purvis, decorations; Mrs. George Helrick and Bob Hickey, hospitality; Mrs. Bruce Stringer, food; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Thaler, name tags; Mrs. Vern Adams, invitations.

Prizes will be awarded for the best, wierdest, funniest and couple's costumes.

'Anastasia' Star Has Experience To Back Role

When Patricia Winkworth plays the "Dowager Empress" in The Dramateurs' coming production of "Anastasia" by Marcell Maurette, she will bring a wealth of theatrical experience and schooling on stage with her.

An Orinda resident, Miss Winkworth has been a member of The Dramateurs for the past four years. She will star in the production which opens next Friday in the Berkeley Little Theater.

A native of Detroit, Mich., Miss Winkworth majored in drama at the University of Michigan and completed her formal dramatic schooling at the Goodman School of the Theater in Chicago.

After achieving national recognition as a character actress while in school, the Dramateur performer gained further acclaim for her work in summer stock.

Some of her roles were the title role in the "Madwoman of Chaillot," Lucy in "All the King's Men," Lady Percy in "Henry IV," and Signora Frola in "Right You Are if You Think You Are."

As a member of the Dramateurs, Miss Winkworth appeared as Marie in "The Guardsman," Smilie in "My Three Angels," Sylvia in "The Women," and Kay in "State of the Union."

She is also a member of the Orinda Art Center and an active sponsor of the Orinda Curtain Callers.

"Anastasia" will play Friday and Saturday nights of next week and on November 9 and 10. Tickets at $1.50 are now available by writing to The Dramateurs, P.O. Box 216, Orinda.

Spanish Dance Soon at Curran

Carmen Amaya, world famous Spanish - Flamenco dancer, will play a one week engagement at the Curran beginning Monday.

This will mark the artist's first appearance in the United States after a ten year absence.

Amaya is accompanied by 20 outstanding dancers and musicians, including Alfredo Speranza, concert pianist and Sabicas, often called the world's outstanding Flamenco guitarist.

During the present tour across country the troupe has been receiving good notices from the press and sell-out houses from the public.

Israeli Writer to Talk on Conflict

Regular sabbath services will be held at the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center tonight at 8:45 p.m.

Fred Marcus will conduct services, with Mrs. Paul Hersh preparing the refreshments that will follow.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Mrs. B. Volcani, a noted journalist from Israel. Mrs. Volcani is a native of Berkeley and wrote for American publications prior to moving to Israel.

Her husband, a professor in Israel, is currently on a sabbatical leave from his university post and is teaching at the University of California in Berkeley.

Mrs. Volcani's topic will be Arab-Israel relations, with particular emphasis on the recent border clashes.

George Harrison Leaves Tomorrow for Olympics

By ERWIN MATTSON

GEORGE HARRISON OF ORINDA is packing his bags, preparatory to leaving tomorrow for a trip that will be climaxed when he competes in Autsralia as a member of Uncle Sam's Olympic swimming team.

George, who lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harrison at 7 Camino Lenada in Orinda, is a senior at Acalanes, and at the age of 17 will be one of three school students on the U.S. team.

He was raised in Orinda and went through the grade schools prior to entering Acalanes.

Starting swimming in a serious way at the age of 13, George wasted little time in making sport headlines as he cracked national records from the beginning, and he presently holds the national 400-meter individual medley, the 400-yard individual medley and the 200-yard individual medley.

MOST RECENTLY he cracked the 220-yard butterfly while competing in a meet at Campbell, when he stopped the clocks at 2:24.9.

George has been a top performer for the Acalanes swim team the past three seasons and has aided them in copping the county championship each year. Last year the Don mermen reached a new high by copping the North Coast title.

In his "off high school season" competition he competes for the nationally known Berkeley Women's City Club. A year ago last summer he toured Japan, and last June he competed in the Hawaiian Islands.

It is interesting to note that George became interested in serious competitive swimming in talking to Barbara Stark, who was on the Olympic swim team in 1952 while a sophomore at Acalanes.

His older brother Bob, who is at present in the service, also was influential, as he was a standout at Acalanes swim meets.

IN FACT, Bob called the turn when he proclaimed that he had a young brother coming up who would be a champ! Truer words were never spoken.

He leaves tomorrow for Los Angeles, where he will join other team-members in two weeks of practice.

The team will then fly to Melbourne, Australia, in a giant air lift.

All in all, they will be in Australia just a little over a month for practice and the games.

George, who stands 6 feet tall and weighs 170, has an ideal swimmer's build, and his wonderful coordination and rhythmic sense have brought him to the greatest heights as a national champ and — as a final crowning of his achievements — as a member of the United States Olympic team.

Judges Picked

Members of the Mt. Diablo Cat Club will present Contra Costa County's first Championship Cat Show in the Walnut Creek Armory, 1800 Carmel, on November 10 and 11. The judges will be Mrs. H. O. Reed of Argos, Indiana, and Mrs. C. C. Strange of El Paso, Texas.

Advance entries are being accepted. There will be cats of all breeds competing for championships and grand-championships.

Unhappy Deaths Of Baby Fowl Move Officials

The happy and wondering looks of little children as they are given a baby chick or rabbit as their very own pet used to touch the hearts of their elders.

The practice is common among dealers.

No longer in Contra Costa County, however, thanks to Mrs. Gunnar Johansen of Concord, whose efforts brought passage of a banning ordinance last week.

Her argument was in effect: turn that picture of happy child and bewildered chick over, and you have another picture — a chick crushed in eager hand or under careless foot, or abandoned without food or care after the youngster's giddy attention shifts to a new pleasure.

An estimated hundreds of thousands of helpless chicks, rabbits and other young fowl everywhere die miserably each year in this manner, she has stated.

But, not again — in Contra Costa County.

The ordinance, of course, does not infringe on the right of dealers to display or sell young fowl or animals for food purposes.

Its violators are subject to $5 to $50 fines for misdemeanor.

Master Plans, Rivers . . . And Talk of Roads!

By BILL HAYWARD

LAFAYETTE JOKE . . . Lots of smiles and many chuckles, let alone some laughs and guffaws were all a part of the Planning Commission Meeting on the County level at Martinez the other nite. . . . After the Commission recently adopted the Lafayette Master Plan . . . many Sunset Villagers owning vacant lots were thrown into a complete tizzy when they realized that their DUPLEX lots were demoted to SINGLE FAMILY ZONING.

To hear your Commissioners trying to salve the damaged owners and yet save face and still attempt to follow the rules of the County in zoning matters . . . frankly it was very entertaining . . . much better than TV especially on Tuesday nights. The final outcome will not be decided until another meeting night . . . TABLED FOR THE PRESENT.

WALNUT CREEK SCHOOL DISTRICT . . . still in the need of land . . . in fact 14 acres adjacent to El Verano Subdivision just east of Lakewood. Land Mogul Frank Marshall at this point will not accept of the offer to purchase made by the School District of $60,000. . . . According to latest reports, this is the top and last offer that the District would make . . . next step . . . condemnation??? or is the land worth more than $4285 per acre? ONE THING FOR CERTAIN . . . WE NEED THE SCHOOL!!!

PLEASANT HILL ACTIVITY . . . Dan Peacock has a little patch of lots off of Boyd Road which will include 10 building sites. They are within a stone's throw of Pleasant Acres Unit No. 1 a development in which Dan had a BIG HAND away back in 1945.

DANVILLE ON THE MOVE . . . Geldermann Realtors, Al & Harlan are in the process of developing OCHO RIOS . . . "Eight Rivers" ? or how is your Spanish. At any rate 37 lots south of ever growing Danville. By the way . . . Can you imagine eight rivers running through 37 lots . . . Flood Control?

BONANZA STREET BUILDING . . . Carl Schmidt owner of the Cockerton Real Estate-Margreth Beauty Salon Building at Mt. Diablo Blvd. & Boulevard Way has completed negotiations with the California State Land Acquisition Division for freeway routes . . . His new building at Bonanza and Putnam St. in downtown Walnut Creek is nearing completion.

Fred von Guenthner is the General Contractor and by the way, is well ahead of schedule and the RAINS we hope. Margreth's Beauty Salon will occupy the shop on the Putnam St. side, the corner we just guess that Old Timer George Cockerton will bow to moving downtown. Another fine store or office is still available for lease . . . This handsome new building replaces the ancient "Soil Conservation Office" that occupied this corner for many years.

SOUTH MAIN STREET . . . must be completely bushed after the long traffic tie-up . . . it must be true . . we hear that "CONTOUR CHAIRS" have leased the store building just north & next to BEEM STUDIOS . . . Contour Chairs . . . sounds like a lazy way of sitting down . . wonderful for T-Viewing, I am told. Incidentally, South Main St looks wider, brighter and better each day . . . BRIDGE TO BE FINISHED IN ABOUT 3 WEEKS.

LAFAYETTE EATERY . . . DON DU BOIS . . . back at La Maisonette on Mt. Diablo Blvd. just west of GOT ROCKS BRICK YARD. . . . For those very special FRENCH DINNERS . . . Don has been swooning the summer resorters with his Pierre Cuisine this season at Lake Almanor Inn away up in Plumas County. Fine to have you back . . . Onion soup and all.

Winners Get Space-Mates Sets from Kings, Black's

Three lucky Central Contra Costa County housewives each won a Westinghouse set of Space-Mates last Saturday, plus a year's supply of detergent, in a contest conducted by Kings Lafayette, Kings Pleasant Hill and Black's Market in Orinda.

The winners are Mrs. Martin Bekedam, 6 Northwood Court, Orinda; Mrs. Norman E. Simas, 424 Beatrice Road, Pleasant Hill, and Mrs. Glenn Butler, 809 Avalon Avenue, Lafayette.

The Space-Mates sets were to be installed at the winners' homes this week, according to Don Tice, co-owner of the markets.

Westinghouse Space-Mates are sets of washing and drying machines, constructed so that they can be placed next to each other — or one on top of the other — so that space is saved and so that washing and drying can be done in a minimum time.

Music Teachers Fall Workshop Will be Sunday

The Music Teachers Association of Contra Costa County will present their first workshop of the fall season Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Stanley School Auditorium, Lafayette.

The students participating are Margie Wasserman and Bobby Burow, Studio of Janet Coop; Kathy Caruso and Henry Melendres, Studio of Katherine Van Oosterwiik; Leah Merlini and Dinah Ford, Studio of Jane Esparza; Betty Richter, Studio of Joan Fyhrie; Nancy Betaque and Kenneth Jones, Studio of Clara Floyd.

Tommy Osgood, Studio of Iner Barr; Julie Newman and Susan Brown, Studio of Margaret Winters; Carolyn Lee Trembath, Studio of Myra Tagg; Kenneth Dalgliesh and Judy Southworth, Studio of Doris Marliave.

Two voice students of Virginia Blair will be there.

Orindan Leads Italian C of C

Raymond V. Winquist, for many years a resident of Orinda at 406 Moraga Highway, has been elected the first president of the newly organized Italian - American Chamber of Commerce of the Pacific Coast with headquarters in San Francisco.

Commenting on this honor, Winquist, who is also president of the General Steamship Corporation of San Francisco, said, "Close relations have existed between California and Italy for the better part of a century and the friendship that evists between these two parts of the world is traditional."

Women Voters Plan Series Of Meetings

Mrs. John Selley, chairman of the League of Women Voters county survey, will have charge of the next unit meetings of the local League.

Mrs. R. E. Fleetham, 1859 Leslie Drive, Pleasant Hill, will be hostess to the unit at 8 p.m., Monday.

On Tuesday, at 8 p.m. meetings will be held at the homes of Mrs. T. C. Otto, 2120 N. Sixth, Concord, and Mrs. Paul Craven, 445 Lakewood, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. H. L. Blum, 450 Muller Road, Walnut Creek, will be hostess at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday. On Thursday evening at 8 a group will meet with Mrs. E. G. Chilton, 42 Haciendas Road, Orinda.

Air Pollution Program Needs Cooperation

A successful air pollution control program will depend on the cooperation of all the residents of six-county Bay Area control district.

That was the keynote of a talk presented yesterday by Benjamin Linsky, newly-appointed air pollution control officer for the district, at a meeting of the Manufacturers Association of San Mateo County.

Linsky's speech at the Villa Hotel in San Mateo was his first public presentation since he took charge of the Bay Area control program last month.

Pointing out that the key to success of the program is obtaining the cooperation of the residents of the district, Linsky declared, "Our job cannot be done unless we get three quarters of a million people on the team."

'Shadelands' To Be Dedicated Tuesday Evening

The dedication of the new Shadelands Cerebral Palsy School Tuesday marks the culmination of five years of planning by parents, teachers, therapists and school authorities of the Mt. Diablo Unified School District.

The cost of the new school was shared by the District through school bonds and the state under the State Aid Building program with a contribution from the County School Office.

Four classrooms and two large therapy rooms have been built to serve 48 pupils. A staff of 11 persons is at present serving the school.

Dedication ceremonies will include talks by Gem R. Davis, principal; James Dent, superintendent of the Mt. Diablo Unified School District; Mrs. Doris Loveridge, member of Board of Trustees of Mt. Diablo Unified School District; and Donald Doyle, our representative to the State Legislature.

The public is invited. Ceremonies will be held at 7:45 p.m. at the Monte Gardens Multi - use Room, adjacent to the Shadelands School

The old Shadelands School first opened its doors on November 17, 1952, with a class of three children, in the old farm house called Shadelands on Ygnacio Valley Road.

Enrollment grew, so a preschool class was added in 1954 and by August, 1955, 21 pupils were receiving education and therapy. An additional 20 children were receiving out patient care under the direction of the County Health Department.

Plans and drawings for the new Shadelands School were accepted by State and local school agencies and last October ground was broken for the new school. On September 4, school started with the existing four classe of pupils.

Junior Red Cross Plans New Drive

Junior Red Cross membership and fund drive will get under way next week and continue through the first two weeks of November, Mrs. K. B. Prouty, local chairman, announced.

Members will be recruited from 21 elementary and four high schools within the Mt. Diablo Chapter area.

Giving assistance to other less fortunate children and creating better understanding and friendship among children of all nations are primary purposes of Junior Red Cross, Mrs. Prouty said.

One thousand dollars was contributed by the local group last year to help children of the Yuba City flood area.

Gift boxes were sent recently by local elementary school children to stricken areas overseas. Contents, donated by the members, included soap, toothbrushes, pencils, handkerchiefs and toys.

Acalanes and San Ramon High School Red Cross members have built and filled two large chests of school supplies for children in Okinawa.

An "international understanding" project of the Charlotte Woods School, Danville, is a tape-recording of American sounds, speech and music, accompanied by pamphlets describing the activity.

Approximately 10,000 children are expected to enroll during the coming drive in this area.

Model Trains Start 3-Day Run Tomorrow

The Diablo Valley Lines model railroad will run its trains for three days, tonight, tomorrow and Sunday.

This will be the third annual public show at the clubhouse on Railroad Avenue in Walnut Creek, near Walker Avenue, and the Southern Pacific station.

Officers say that many improvements have been made in the past year. A stucco finish has changed the outside appearance of the clubhouse.

Inside, new floor and finished walls are completed. The table on which the miniature trains operate, with its realistic scenery, has added a new control panel for the yard tracks, a new sawmill at the far end of the forty-foot table, and improved lighting fixtures which increase the illlusion of a model empire through which the trains travel.

Club president E. C. Nevins of Pleasant Hill anticipates a larger crowd of visitors — more than the 2500 people who braved the torrential storms last winter for the previous three-day show

The doors will be opened tonight at 7:30, Saturday afternoon and Sunday at 2 p.m.

Admission will be 25 cents.

Osmundsen to Seek Housing For 'A-Victims'

Harold E. Parker of Martinez, president of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County, has appointed John Osmundsen of Lafayette as chairman of his Civil Defense Committee.

The Committee was appointed at the request of R. J. Kraintz, County Building Inspector, to aid in a study of structures in Contra Costa County which would be available for housing residents of nearby areas in case of an atom bomb explosion.

Committee members designated by Osmundsen are Jim Goodhue, Concord, engineer; Elvin Riley, Concord, architect; Ed Rodman, Walnut Creek, insurance broker; and Fred Kirkham, Walnut Creek, commercial builder.

Kraintz addressed the meeting stating, "Tests were made in Nevada to ascertain the structural soundness of various types of construction in order to ascertain the possibility of determining those structures that would remain standing following an atom blast.

"The Civil Defense is now interested in classifying the various structures throughout the County that will be available for use in case of enemy attack for housing residents of adjoining areas in such an emergency."

State College Supported

A state college in east Contra Costa County is one of four proposed for construction by a California Assembly Committee on Education, which completed a two-year study yesterday.

The study ended with nearly a week of hearings in El Centro. Assemblyman Donald Doyle is chairman of the committee.

Of the proposed colleges, one would serve southern Alameda County, while another would serve Solano, Napa, Sonoma and eastern Contra Costa Counties.

Campuses have also been proposed for Stanislaus County and the Imperial Valley. At present the are 10 four-year state colleges in California.

"There is little question that California needs additional state colleges," Doyle said. "Committee opinion still is tentative as to just where new campuses should be established."

The solon pointed out that well over half of California's new teachers are trained in state colleges, and that additional campuses would be a large step toward solving the increasingly critical instructor shortage.

Tight Money Is a Problem, Say Contractors

"The home building industry is at a competitive disadvantage in today's "tight money" market," Frederick C. Kracke, executive vice president of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County advised members at a dinner meeting at the El Nido.

"Due to the restriction placed upon the Home Building Industry through the controlled interest rate provided in the FHA and VA programs, it is necessary for the builders and subdividers to pay discounts for the money they need to continue in business.

"The Administration must recognize the need for an upward adjustment in these interest rates if the nation's home builders are to be able to continue building under these programs, Kracke stated.

"The charge for mortgage money, necessitated by the discount is just as much a cost of the home constructed as is the material and labor that goes into the house.

"This cost should be recognized by the lending institutions and the governmental agencies in their appraisals," he stated.

California isn't producing enough oil to supply its own autos, its farms, its industries—or its share of the Nation's defense needs.

We are running out of gas! Why?

Because today selfish operators with no regard for the public welfare are blocking modern conservation methods that the entire oil industry knows will double California's oil recovery.

A selfish minority is sabotaging YOUR gas supply . . . keeping the State of California from harvesting billions of dollars in State oil revenues that could pay —tax free as far as you're concerned—for our new water program and many other needed public services.

"THE LARGEST STAKE IS YOURS AND MINE"
— STATE CONTROLLER

"In Long Beach alone the entire State stands to benefit by hundreds of millions of dollars in added income under PROPOSITION 4.

"Without unitization . . . these new riches will be lost. You and I—as citizen landowners—hold the largest stake by far in the proper oil development of our State."

ROBERT C. KIRKWOOD,
State Controller, chief elective fiscal officer for California

PROPOSITION 4 GIVES CALIFORNIA . . .

- A 12 billion dollar increase in economic wealth.
- New jobs and 2 billion dollars in new paychecks.
- A new supply of 4 billion barrels of oil—for our cars, our planes, our industrial machines.
- A secure source of oil for our National defense.

For more oil . . . more gas . . . more tax benefits . . . more jobs . . . more security

Knights, Pirates Fight out 'Big One' Tonight

Pittsburg Game May Determine Title for 1956

The Las Lomas Knights face the big one tonight when they tackle the Pittsburg Pirates in their own back yard in a battle that could well determine the 1956 championship.

Pittsburg took care of the Dons last week in no uncertain fashion when the Pirates tromped Acalanes 38-7.

Las Lomas, like Pitt, remained in the undefeated class when they toppled the Diablo Devils 21-7.

COACH George DeKlotz reports that the Knights are in fine mental fettle and figure to give their best, which could be good enough, as Las Lomas has compiled an impressive record of its own.

There are two question-marks in the Knight camp. Ace guard and linebacker Herb Foster cracked a bone in his hand last Friday night, and only last-minute developments will determine if he can go with a light cast protection tonight.

The other casualty is fullback Roger Cowell, out since the Antioch game two weeks ago with a game knee.

BOTH PLAYERS are questionable, but neither is definitely out at this writing.

In event Foster is out, chances are he will be replaced by Dan Van Voorhies on offense and Jim Moore on defense.

The Knights have three capable quarterbacks in Jim Symington, Don Crowley and Terry Yeager.

IN WEBB JOHNSON they have one of the county's best and most versatile players, as he has been a guard, center, end and linebacker.

Pete Ostrom, the speedy junior halfback, has come into his own, and with Duane Brown, the county's leading scorer, back in harness, the Knights have a real 1-2 punch.

The junior varsities of the two clubs open at 5:45 in the preliminary, with the main event starting with the kickoff at 8 p.m. sharp, under the lights of the Steel City.

Pitt Smashes Don Title Hopes with 38-7 Beating

Championship hopes were virtually smashed last Friday night for the Dons of Acalanes as they were trounced by the rugged Pittsburg Pirates, 38-7.

Run and passed into the ground, the Dons found their major nemises in the Pirates' brilliant Charley Verduzco, the swift quarterback who had one of his better nights as he scored one and passed to three more six pointers.

THE DONS SUFFERED a reversal of form after showing exceptional strength in downing Mt. Diablo the week before. The Acalanes crew couldn't get unwound in the first half and left the field trailing 19-0.

Tackle Frank Lazio set up the first Pirate touchdown when he recovered a fumble on the Acalanes 25 early in the first quarter.

Halfback Randy James cashed in for six points as he hit right tackle for 15 yards after two plays had netted 10 yards.

Verduzco ran over the extra point, catching the Dons with their defenses down after faking a kick.

It was a cast of Pitt offensive dominance most of the initial quarter.

The second Pirate score came on the first play of the second canto when Verduzco hit fullback John Nord with a 31 yard pass, climaxing a 54 yard drive in eight plays.

THE FINAL SCORE of the first half came with but 20 seconds remainging on the clock.

The Dons had found themselves in a 4th and 12 situation and gambled on a run by fullback Stewart Busby. They lost.

As Pitt took over the ball, their first pass attempt while racing against the clock failed. Then Verduzco let loose with a 30 yard heave and siv more were chalked up as halfback Ken Kovacs held onto the ball.

The conversion kick missed and it was 19-0.

In the third frame Acalanes fumbled and Pitt end Tony Baraco recovered on the Dons' 34. In two plays the ball was on the 13.

ON THE NEXT play Verduzco tucked the pigskin under his arm on a keep and scooted around left end for the score, making it 26-0.

Lou Marello took over at quarterback for the Dons and sparked the club to a 72 yard march in 13 plays for the lone Acalanes score. Lou went the final two on a sneak.

Busby made good the conversion kick, and that's when the Dons should have retired.

In the final period Pitt scored on a 39 yard poss from Verduzco to end Jesse Lea. The pass was the culmination of a drive that went 63 yards in six plays.

IT WAS LAUNCHED when a Pitt halfback pounced on a Don fumble on his own 39.

The final score came when Pitt halfback Len Morris went off tackle for 62 yards, with Don tacklers muffing a half dozen chances to stop him. Lea kicked the extra point, bringing the score to Pitt, 38-Acalanes, 7.

Seconds later the game ended.

MARELLO'S sparkling play, some fine pass receiving by halfback Dave Bojarsky and good defensive work by Ed Maloney were about the only balm to sooth the humiliated Dons.

Fullback Stewart Busby, however, ran well when his teammates gave him some room.

Oddly, each team had 12 first downs. The Dons gained 196 yards rushing and 112 via the air on 9 completions, most of which came in the second half.

Dons Will Be Hosts Tonight To Pacifica

The Acalanes Dons are still licking their wounds as the result of a double setback at the hands of the Pittsburg Pirates last Friday night.

The wounds are more mental than physical, and chances are the Don elevens will bound back against Pacifica tonight in games to be played at Acalanes Memorial Field.

THE ACALANES varsity came up with its poorest play to date in the crucial game and to state that players and coaches alike are displeased is putting it mildly.

The offense has been getting a bit of revamping, and overtime work has been the order of the day, with emphasis on pass defense, which was at an all-time low for the season.

PACIFICA is a green and not too deep club, in its first year of varsity play. They have an offense that features spread plays, and they could present trouble with a few breaks. On defense they have at times shown to good advantage.

Switches were being contemplated in the Dons' personnel as far as starters go, but coaches wanted another look or two at the movies of last week's show before making any definite moves.

The junior varsities open tonight at 5:45, with varsity play taking the spotlight at 8.

JV Teams Play Another Round

It was another round of junior varsity football play last week as three league games were on top as preliminaries to the varsity games.

The Acalanes Dons did the first half up right at Pittsburg when they trailed 13-12 after leading in the early stages, only to lose out on gamble plays in the second half and go down with final of 32-12.

The Las Lomas junior varsity came through with a top performance and came close to upsetting the dope bucket when they lost a close one to the highly rated and as yet undefeated Little Devils of Diablo by a 13-7 count.

The third game of the night, the Pleasant Hill junior varsity under Coach Lyle Palmer, remained undefeated when the squeaked by the Antioch Panthers 14-13.

The Miramonte Matadors hosted Pacifica last Friday afternoon and came up with a great performance to notch a 20-13 win in a close and hard-fought game.

It looks at this stage of the game as if Diablo and the Pleasant Hill Rams will battle it out for the top spot when they meet in the next game at Diablo, as both clubs are undefeated up to this point, while the number 3 spot looms as a battle down to the final game.

Don't throw trash from your car. It's now against the law to be a litterbug. Keep roads clean.

Adult Cagers Working Out At Las Lomas

Adult basketball practice for Walnut Creek area men is underway each Tuesday evening at the Las Lomas High School Gym, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Area men are invited to participate in these evening sessions.

Men's basketball is sponsored by the Walnut Creek Recreation Commission, and under the leadership of Bob Maxey, General Supervisor, Walnut Creek Recreation Department. No special equipment is needed for basketball according to Maxey, other than gym shoes. Shower facilities are available at the high school.

Maxey has requested that sponsors of men's basketball teams in past seasons contact him at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center, YE 4-7117. Men who have played on league teams in previous years were also requested to call Maxey.

Gael Cagers Face Tough Slate, Travel

St. Mary's College cagers will play 26 games this season, including 14 conference contests with California Basketball Association opponents, athletic director Jim Weaver announced today.

The non-conference schedule is highlighted by three road trips for games with Seattle, Wyoming and Brigham Young, plus traditional battles with Stanford and California.

Home court for the Gaels will again be the campus gymnasium, with a seating capacity of 2,000. However, home games with Seattle and USF will be played in Kezar Pavillion, San Francisco.

Last season, St. Mary's won 16 and lost 10 in Weaver's first year as head coach.

FROZEN BATTERY

Freezing weather can damage an automobile battery. A fully charged battery will withstand temperatures as low as 80 degrees below zero, but a weak or nearly discharged battery may freeze and burst when subjected to freezing temperatures.

Knights Tie for Loop Lead After Downing Diablo

The Las Lomas Knights are still in the undefeated class in league play and stand atop the heap with the Pittsburg Pirates by virtue of a 21-7 win over the Mt. Diablo Red Devils.

The charges of Coach George DeKlotz were off to a running start in the opening quarter when tackle Tom La Perle downed the Devil quarterback Merle Marshall behind the goal line for a safety and two points.

The opening quarter proved to be the big one for the Knights as they chalked up two touchdowns and a conversion, bringing their total to 15 points to none for the Devils as the second period opened.

The initial touchdown came whe quarterback Jim Symington tossed a TD pass to halfback Dick Bergdale, with the play covering 36 yards.

The conversion missed, but Joe "The Toe" Emmericks made it good on his second try, which came after the Symington-Bergdale pass combination struck again for 47 yards and another six-pointer.

Bergdale was in the spotlight again in the second canto as he intercepted a Mt. Diablo toss and scrambled to the goal line 22 yards away.

Neither club scored the rest of the half, and as the teams trotted off for a brief respite the Knights has a comfortable 21-0 lead.

After a scoreless third period, Diablo came to life in the final stanza as they went 83 yards in 13 plays to score. Halfback Rod Atnip scampered the final 13 yards around right end.

Marshall made good the conversion kick and that's the way it ended — Las Lomas 21, Mt. Diablo 7.

The Devils held a 16-6 edge in first downs, but the Knights were ahead in the net yardage department, 280 to 278. Apparently, that's where it counted.

Bethel 218 Set For Halloween Surprise Party

Following a pair of successful and eventful recent affairs, Job's Daughters of Lafayette are looking forward to a surprise Halloween party next Wednesday at 6 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Announcing that their recent fashion show at El Nido Rancho was "highly enjoyable," the local Bethel 218 hosted many Job's Daughters throughout the area at Bethel Night Wednesday at the Memorial Building.

The girls have been promised unexpected activities at the Halloween Party, being asked to show up in costume "ready for anything."

The Bethel is busy selling fruit cakes presently, the proceeds to go to the Educational and Activity fund. The girls are also gathering rummage for a rummage sale.

Contributors are asked to contact Suzanne De Hamne, AT 3-3262.

Miramonte Breaks Jinx, Cops 1st Win

The Matadors of Miramonte High found both their home field and the opposition to their liking last Friday afternoon as they rolled to a smooth 20-13 win over the Pacifica Spartans.

Spearheaded by the fine running of halfback Gary Lucas and the all around play of quarterback Floyd Blaney, the Matadors scored in the first period and, though tied twice, were never headed.

THE VICTORY was the first of the season after they had dropped several heartbreakers.

Miramonte was off to a fast start as the opening kickoff launched a sustained drive that carried the local eleven to the goal line and a score.

The drive was climaxed when halfback Ronnie Brown hit a quick opener for the final four yards. Gary Lucas applied the toe on the conversion and the score was 7-0.

Late in the initial quarter Pacifica started a drive from their own 20 and wound up with 80 yards covered as they reached pay dirt. The score came on an 18 yard sweep around right end.

A completed pass for the conversion registered a big 7 on the scoreboard.

WITH THINGS ALL TIED up in the second quarter, Miramonte went into the scoring act again when halfback Lucas drove over tackle on a handoff from six yards out.

A Spartan lineman, however, rushed in to block the conversion, and it was 13-7. That's the way things stood at halftime.

Fullback Vicky Clifford and halfback Ron Brown were sidelined as the second half began, forcing the Matador coach to switch to a flanker offense to loosen up the defense.

Randy Young moved into the fullback spot and, paired with Lucas at left half, carried the load the rest of the way.

IN THE THIRD quarter Pacifica kicked off and after holding for three downs found themselves with the ball on the Matador 38 after a weak punt that travelled but 13 yards.

The Spartans took full advantage of the break when on the second play of the series they went down the middle to the Miramonte eight. Three smashes into the stiffening Matador line carried the ball to the two.

A quarterback sneak brought the big six points. When the conversion attempt failed the count was 13 apiece.

THE KICKOFF following the TD was run by Miramonte to the 37. From there the Matadors went to work and in 11 plays had the pigskin on the Spartan two.

Quarterback Floyd Blaney then lugged it over on a qb sneak.

One of the crucial plays in the drive was a flat pass to Lucas on the 35 on fourth down with eight to go. The halfback bulled his way for the needed yardage.

Lucas booted the conversion and the scoreboard said Miramonte 20, Pacifica 13. That's what it read when the final gun sounded.

MIRAMONTE MENTOR Don Phillips felt that his club put forth their best team effort to date. As usual, Lucas and Blaney drew special comment. In the guard spots a pair of Mikes — Wilmar and Ablo — were standouts in a strong line.

Lucas carried the ball 16 times for a total of 128 yards . . . an eight yard average.

This afternoon Miramonte travels to Antioch for a game that looms as a tossup. Antioch lost a 14-13 thriller to undefeated Pleasant Hill last Friday night. Today's game will start at 3:30 p.m.

With Bill Klement returning to the Miramonte fold today, the Matadors will be at full strength for the first time this season if Vickey Clifford and Brown are ready.

GAS CAP

If for any reason you lose the gas cap on your car, be sure it is replaced with the correct type cap, cautions the California State Automobile Association. A vented gasoline tank cap is necessary to insure proper "breathing."

Flag Football At WC City Park Attracts Graders

Flag Football was off to a fast start at Walnut Creek City Park last week.

Seven teams play in the sixth grade league on Monday afternoons through Thursdays, and six teams in the fifth grade league playing Mondays through Wednesdays.

Game time for two games a day is from 3:30 to 4:30 on days scheduled.

Flag Football is available for fifth and sixth grade boys in the Walnut Creek School District, on the turf at City Park. It is sponsored by the Walnut Creek Recreation Commission.

Bob Maxey, general supervisor for the recreation department, is assisted by Joe Bailey, an instructor at the Walnut Heights School, and by Clyde McKinley, an instructor at the Parkmead School. Both men have had previous experience and training in recreation work.

In the first week of play, the Red Skins lead the sixth grade league with two wins, while the Bruins, Bears and Spartans lead the fifth grade league, each with one game.

Diablo, Rams Meet Tonight In Concord

Diablo and Pleasant Hill will vie tonight at Diablo field, with kickoff time set for 8 o'clock.

Neither the Devils nor the Ram aggregation is in contention for the Contra Costa DVAL division crown, but plenty of hot scrapping is anticipated.

Diablo and Pleasant Hill have had nothing but troubles of late, but the big Red Devil machine boomed up with tremendous striking power in their losing effort against the Knights of Las Lomas.

THE RAMS gained the respect of high school football enthusiasts with their 0-0 gridiron battle with the Antioch Panthers.

Coach Hart Fairclough said, "I'm feeling pretty fine about my hard-running backs and sharp blocking of the linemen."

He anticipates the Red Devil machine to blast through Plaesant Hill's hard-hitting front wall and tear through the secondary.

HAL BRIGGS, Ram tutor, is extremely well pleased with the defensive action of the Rams in stopping the "back cats" cold.

Now he's working with Tommy Larscheid and Lou Salazar to break away from the Devils. He feels that with a couple of good breaks and with a repeat of last week's top-notch defensive play against the Panthers, "the Ram can go on to a spectacular victory."

IN LAST WEEK'S game against the Panthers, Pleasant Hill came up with one of the most impressive shows of defensive strength yet exhibited in the league.

Banking on a couple of pass plays and sharpening up offensive blocking, the Rams could go all the way tonight.

BRAKE FLUID

Here's a good habit to get into: when you have your car lubricated each 1,000 miles, have the service man check the brake fluid level. It only takes a minute and it's one of the most important service points to have checked regularly.

Viking 34-13 Win is at San Jose's Expense

The East Contra Costa Vikings defeated San Jose State College freshmen, 34-13, Saturday night in a grid contest played at Mt. Diablo High School.

They led 14-6 at the end of the first quarter, 21-13 at the half, and 28-13 at the end of the third quarter.

Garvin and Tackett took the ball 80 yards in eight plays to set up the Vikings first touchdown when McMillan went three yards off right guard into the end zone.

San Jose's Bill McCluskey plunged one yard for the oppositions first score, after a 57-yard sustained drive.

The Vikings made it 14-6 when quarterback Roy Johnson passed to end Bill Parnell for 53 yards and to Garvin for 21 yards and the score.

In the second period, Ray Norton of San Jose ran 88 yards for a touchdown after receiving the kickoff. The Vikings retaliated by taking the ball 31 yards in seven plays allowing a center drive by Garvin to reach pay dirt.

Garvin returned a punt 80 yards in the fourth quarter to end the scoring.

East Contra Costa had 18 first downs to San Jose's 10.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Secret code adds to their popularity

A PAIR OF OUR MOST HAPPILY-MARRIED people have a novel way of communicating w/one another when they're out in a partying crowd. When one or the other is monopolizing the verbal exchange, the other reminds with a soft-spoken "TTM, Darling, TTM" which translated to their own code means "Shut up, dear, you're Talking Too Much!"

Another popular couple of the young married set have, too, a system for stimulating interesting conversations on the party circuit. They agree beforehand, and frequently remind one another during the evening "No B or B," which doesn't refer to an "after-dinner" at all, but to absolutely "No Babies or Business" talk during their social outing!

Jay Jacobus, bayarea barrister, is also a busy broadcaster, celebrating now his tenth year in broadcasting by doing three regular TV shows, all on KRON . . . The shows are "Science in Action," "Your Child and the Experts," and "Football Today."

Austin Kelly, proprietor of Kelly's sporting goods, who lives on Camino Sobrante, has a new TV show calledd "Kelly's Korner," designed naturally for the sportsmen who can view it on Channel 13, Wednesday evenings, 9:30 p.m.

ONE ORINDA HUSBAND HAS HIS OWN SYSTEM for figuring out how his wife spent the day before he even sets foot in the house. When he pulls into their two-car garage, he passes his hand over the hood of her car. If the engine is still hot, he knows he'll find the lady of the house in the kitchen working at a feverish pace to create a domestic picture as if she'd been there for hours, which of course, she hasn't, having just blown in herself from a day of bridge or beauty parlor or just plain bouncing around!

OUR NEWEST FAIR LADIES . . . Nancy and John Van Dyne have decided by now on a name for their new daughter, their third girl, born Monday morning early at Merritt Hospital!

Marilyn and Bill Kauffman called their firstborn, a girl, the pretty name of Susan Elizabeth, and Anita and Oliver Pearson of Miner Rd. will probably call herself "Sandy," but her official name is Sandia Corning and she curtsied in last Saturday!

STARS AND STRIPES . . . Comdr. John Bailey of Miner Rd. left last week on a tour of the Pacific aboard the USS Zelima . . . When he returns from such naval peregrinations, he looks like Marco Polo, w/packages and pockets full of surprises for Jean and their five children John, Susan, Bobby, Billy, and Dickie. Susan's doll collection includes many from faraway places brought home by her navy father.

Some people have all the pep

Cmdr. Earl Vicars of Broadview Terrace had a week in DC and Phil. attending a naval conference, personally meeting Richard Nixon and catching a few of our historic landmarks!

AMONG LOCALITES ENTERTAINING visiting medics during the recent Amer. College of Surgeon's Convention in SF were Dr. and Mrs. James Eldred who hosted a small dinner party in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Mainzer of New York City. The Eldreds have four children.

Besides being youngish grandparents, Del and Adrienne Brown of Loma Vista Dr. have, in less than a year, built their own attractive home, as well as a boat, managed to create a flourishing flower and vegetable garden practically overnite, which is the envy of their neighbors, and recently went to Lake Tahoe, NOT to relax, but to close up their cabin at Donner Lake for the winter, which is no easy accomplishment

The Kennon Whites have transferred their treasures from Broadview Terrace over the hills to Warford Mesa . . . Counting on Christmas Dinner in their new home on Loma Vista Dr. are Don and Arlene Hefner and their two youngsters, Robert and Jean, who are all currently commuting from Lafayette, incl. Robert, who attends Kndgtn. here.

SHADES OF HEDDA HOPPER, but our local tree man took off for Hollywood and his new bride. She is Pat Crowley of "The Moon Is Blue" fame . . . He is Jack Renfro of the Walnut Creek Tree Service.

When Orinda Kndgtn. teacher, Miss Nan Christy (for Christoperson) mentioned during a room meet that the new baby doll was minus a wardrobe, Mrs. Webster Sawyer of Claremont Ave. eagerly volunteered to sew some pretty doll duds. Quite a change from patching jeans and plastic trucks for Marge, who is the mother of THREE boys!

Out of Dolls For Democrats, more Dollars for Democrats with doll outfits too, being whipped up by local democratic women under the seamstressship of Alice Link, who is taking orders for fur coats and bridal gowns and more such glamor-garb to fit Vogue and Ginnie models.

The Charles Hanks and Dr. and Mrs. Robert McEligot are among those heading for the handsome Holmes residence on Diablo View Rd. tomorrow night for cocktails and a late buffet and dancing party being given by Orinda and Lafayette Democrats . . . Among those participating in a party mood are the John Glascocks, Philip Lamberts, Rudolph Cresseys, junior Ralph Reids, as well as the William McKees, Alan Gittlesohns, George Jonas, Cecil Asmans, Neil Falconers . . . for tickets, at $5 per couple, call Connie Benney at CL 4-4085.

Most of us don't need advice on dressing a turkey, but dressing up the Thanksgiving table is different . . . Jack McDonald of McDonald's Nursery will offer ideas for special Thanksgiving arrangements, some that can be used permanently, as well as Christmas decor do-it-yourself at a "Holiday" lecture tea by Poplar Branch members next Thursday at 1:45 p.m. in the Lake Merritt Sailboat House . . . Tickets from Judy Brookes, Chairman, at CL 4-2191, at $1.50, or Arline Coburn, CL 4-2019.

THOSE MAGNIFICENT BAUBLES, passementeried trees, and other stunning stuff sold by Podesta & Baldocchi in SF during the yuletide season are the artistic creations of a young Lafayette mother of four.

TIME TO START CHRISTMAS CRAFTS Yourself! An ambitious program "Christmas Traditions" is this year's theme of the fifth annual Holiday decorations program, to be held at the Oakland Municipal Auditorium Theater and Arena Oct. 30 through Nov. 2 from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. each day w/special art-in-action sessions from 11:30 until 1:30, in addition to the morning and afternoon programs on the stage.

The widely-attended event, sponsored by the Oakland Park Dept. and various garden clubs of the eastbay, is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

Among the participants in the interesting program is a group called "The CHRISTMAS NUTS," Which is, after all is said and done, exactly how most of us are re: Xmas decorations! Plan to attend and get NEW ideas!

Go to Church Sunday

Lutheran

Members of the Senior Luther League of Our Savior's Lutheran Church, 1035 Carol Lane, Lafayette, will attend the Golden Gate Circuit Luther League Reformation Rally to be held at Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church in So. San Francisco beginning at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow.

"The Reformation Message for Today" will be the sermon theme of the pastor, the Rev. Merle O. Tollefson, at the 8:15 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday. Nursery accomodations are available during the 11 a.m. service.

The Sunday School meets at 9:30 a.m. with classes for all in pre-school through adult Bible Class. The high school group, the Alpha Chi, also meets at 9:30 a.m. At 11 a.m. there are classes for pre-school through grade 3.

Sunday evening from 7-8:30 p.m. the Junior Luther League, composed of those in grades 7 and 8, will meet at the church for a Hallowe'en party.

Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. the sewing group will meet at the church for their work day. At 8 p.m. the Board of Deacons will meet at the church.

The Women's Study group will meet Thursday morning at 10 a.m. at the church. Junior Confirmation class and the Junior Choir will meet at 7:00 p.m. Thursday evening. The Senior Choir will meet at 8 p.m.

The Senior Confirmation Class will meet at the church Saturday morning at 10:00 a.m.

Community

Worship services will be held at 9:30 and 11 o'clock at the Lafayette Community Methodist Church. Mr. Dwight Williams, Youth Director will preach at 9:30 on "Personal Reform."

Rev. Mr. Chester R. Lewis will speak on "The Reformation, 1956," at the 11 o'clock service. Church School is at 9:30 a.m.

Wednesday evening, Hallowe'en two Methodist Youth Fellowships will go out on a Trick or Treat program for SOS (Share Our Surplus) sponsored by Church World Service.

They will carry containers for funds, which will be used to send our surplus, through the government, to the hungry and starving overseas. Authorized young people will be identified by armbands. Each penny will send over a pound of food.

The Executive Board of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ralph Winters, 482 Florence Drive, at 10 o'clock.

Baptist

A "big time" is aticipated tomorrow night at the Halloween Party for the members of the Junior Age young people's groups of the First Baptist Church of Lafayette, 969 Moraga Road.

Singing, Bible stories and Bible study will occupy the regular Sunday School hour, 10 a.m., next Sunday at the church.

At the 11 a.m. worship service Pastor A. R. Rutledge will deliver the message, "Cure for Anxious Care."

Evening worship will commence at 7 p.m., rather than at the regular 7:30 hour. This will be a permanent change.

Episcopal

"Do We Need to Be Forgiven" will be the question discussed by the Rev. Albert Lucas, vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 12 Via Las Cruces, Orinda, in his sermon at the 9:15 and 11 a.m. services of Morning Prayer on Sunday.

There will be a celebration of Holy Communion at 8 a.m. Church school will meet during the Family Service at 9:15. Nursery care is available in the basement of the vicarage during the 11 o'clock service.

At 7 p.m. the Young People's Fellowship will meet in the undercroft.

O Wednesday the regular midweek service of Holy Communion will be held at 10 a.m. Nursery care is provided during this service.

Covenant

Rev. C. Raymond White, pastor of the Lafayette Mission Covenant Church, Brook Street and Moraga Road, Lafayette, will describe "Pen Pictures of Christ: His Miracles" at 11 a.m. Morning Worship services Sunday.

Church School, with Dick Lotter as superintendent, will commence at 9:45 a.m.

At the evening service at 7 p.m. the color sound film, "The Burden of the Andes," will be shown.

The Junior Hi, Senior Hi and college age Youth Groups will meet at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Throngs Attend 1st Choir Concert

Nearly 150 persons, some from as far away as Palo Alto, gathered at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda, Sunday evening to hear the St. Stephen's Choir in the opening concert of its series featuring talented Bay Area artists.

The concerts will be given on the third Sunday of each month at 8 p.m.

At the next concert, which is set for November 18, the Duo-Singers, sopranos Nancy Corwin and Claudine Allen, will offer an unusual program of music for two similar ranges.

Lady Knows What to Do With Her Figs

Mrs. Angela Broadhead, of 3362 Ridge Road, Lafayette, has had a recipe submitted by her entered in the finals of the statewide Fig Recipe Contest, it was announced today by the Central Valley Empire Association of Fresno, sponsors of the contest.

She will be eligible for one of the 55 ribbons and cash prizes to be awarded to the top winners after the final judging and testing later this month.

Mrs. Broadhead submitted an easy-to-make oatmeal fig bar.

From Holy Names to USF Goes Local Girl

Mary K. Willans-Izett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel C. Willans-Izett of Lafayette, is newly-enrolled in the University of San Francisco.

Miss Willans-Izett attended Holy Names High School prior to enrolling at USF, where she is registered in the School of Nursing.

Around Acalanes

By JERRY MORIARTY

Our rally sixth period today instilled a new spirit into the Acalanes Student Body. Enthusiastic Don's yelled hard while awaiting the home game tonight with Pacifica.

After last Friday night's game with Pittsburg, Acalanes is in third place, while Pittsburg and Las Lomas still remain tied for first.

The numerous games still to be played will be the only thing to tell the final tale.

STUDENTS WELCOME

At last week's interesting assembly all of the new exchange students were introduced as follows:

Kamran Hakin, Fritz Borst, Maria Zarbanon, Elin Kasmussen and Peter Gerlicher.

Following these introductions Smed Ambler and Allen Shapiro gave enlighting talks on their trips this summer.

Smed and Allen, both seniors at Acalanes went to France and Germany, respectively, last summer on the American Field Service program.

It is plain to see, after their impressive talks, that the AFS program is doing a great deal towards promoting friendly relations with European countries.

Before the Assembly was closed a gift was presented to George Harrison, from the student body, by Mr. Walgreen. George is one of the two high school students in the United States on the 1956 Olympic Team. George warmly expressed his thanks for, "the wonderful and useful traveling clock" after the presentation has been made.

There was also a going away party given by Kathy Thompson for George, who will embark tomorrow on his trip to Melbourn, Australia.

Many students went in order to give George a warm send off. Some of those who were there on Sunday night were Susan Murray, Susan Wasson, Abby Roberts, Mr. Woodell, Val Geisler and Norma Waddell.

It seems that last weekend was one for parties, particularly after the Pittsburg game on Friday night. Diane Fontaine had an open house. Here Acalanes Dons could have seen a great many of their friends among Acalanes Alumni.

SLUMBER?

Prudy Myers also had a party, but this one was a surprise for Kathy Barnum's birthday. And a Slumber party besides!

Kathy Terry had a slumber party for all the senior girls which everyone enjoyed. Some of the girls there were Judy Parker, Itsy Silva, Sara Fowler, Pat Whitehead and Lynne Wiggins.

The Jr. Statesmen's mock election proved successful, with a little more than half the school participating. The main question in the election was that of the presidential candidacy.

The result stands: Eisenhower-Nixon (Rep.) . . . 518, and Stevenson-Kefauver (Dem.) . . . 120.

The annual carcheck was held yesterday in order to instill the importance of driving a safe vehicle in students' minds.

When the car check is completed no car will be allowed on school premises unless it has passed.

C.S.F. members will visit Davis, the California Agriculture College, in order to become better acquainted with College life and activities. Only 54 students will be able to attend this activity of the group on November 1 because of limited facilities.

PATIENCE AND JUDGMENT

Being patient and having good judgment are two of the most important qualifications of a safe motorist. Neither one is easy to develop, but without them a driver is a menace to himself and to others.

Teachers Feted By Local Moms

Several more coffee hours honoring the teachers of Lafayette Elementary School have been scheduled by the P.T.A. room mothers.

Mrs. Paul Lanferman recently entertained the mothers of pupils attending Miss Frances Rosso's morning kindergarten session at her home on Crescent Drive.

Two parties were held October 6.

Miss Sally Akers, kindergarten teacher, was guest of honor at the home of Mrs. Owen Haskell on Hawthorne Drive. Mrs. Haskell was assisted by Mrs. Joe Duca.

Also on that date Mrs. Kathryn Guppy, third grade teacher, and the mothers of her pupils enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Spiro Kosach at her home on Solano Drive.

OCS Graduation Earns Ensign Rank

Alan G. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hughes of 3961 S. Peardale Drive was graduated from the Navy's Officer Candidate School at Newport, R.I., and was commissioned Ensign October 12.

To earn their commission the new officers had to complete a 17-week course of study and indoctrination covering such subjects as navigation, engineering, seamanship, military justice and naval weapons.

UNICEF 'Treats' to Replace Halloween 'Trick' Tradition

Lafayette Surburban Juniors will be helping UNICEF with a new "Halloween Look."

Pennies for United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund will replace the tradional "trick or treat" night of the past as children of the suburban juniors go house to house with collection cans on Halloween.

These children will be identified by their UNICEF arm bands.

The pennies collected will help pay the costs of "sharing our surplus," the drive designed to help hungry people all over the world with our excess food.

According to the UNICEF chairman of the Suburban Juniors, Mrs. Leo Schell, one penny collected for UNICEF will provide a vaccine to protect a child from tuberculosis; five cents will provide enough penicillin to cure a child of yaws.

Ten cents will provide nearly 60 glasses of milk; thirteen cents will supply enough DDT to protect a child for one year from malaria, Mrs. Schell disclosed.

The Suburban Juniors have also announced that they will be selling UNICEF greeting cards at their annual Christmas Bazaar December 1 at the Veterans Memorial Building in Lafayette.

Sun Classified ads appear in 5 papers at 1 bargain price.

Springhill PTA To Fete Pupils On Halloween

A Halloween Party will be given Springhill children by the school's PTA unit on Halloween night, October 31, at the Acalanes Girl's Gym.

A costume competition, a magician and a movie will be some of the highlights of the event, beginning at 7:30 and ending at 9.

In addition to prizes given for costume winners, a favor will be given to each child, according to Bill Bispham, party chairman.

Bispham adds "though the event is primarily for Dads and their children, if Dad can't make it Mom is welcome.

Dad is urged to wear a costume too, as he will also be in the costume competition.

Membership results were announced at the recent PTA meeting by Mrs. Richard Stultz, membership chairman. To date, 472 parents have joined, according to Mrs. Stultz's report.

Sun Editor Tells LTA of Effective Teaching Means

Highlighted in the recent Lafayette Teachers' Association meeting was a disclosure by Eleanor Silverman, associate editor of The Sun, of "What My Favorite Teacher Meant to Me."

Mrs. Silverman's talk, in which she labeled the qualities of her famorite teacher, was the first of an association series on the same topic.

The Sun executive labeled (1) the ability of a teacher to force each student to think for himself, and (2) the determination of a teacher to drill his student with facts, rules and knowledge, as a teacher's most essential qualities.

She added that a good teacher is able to be very strict and demand respect while encouraging and understanding his students.

Sig Hansen, business manager of the Lafayette School District, followed Mrs. Silverman's talk with an explanation of the district's Budget Board.

His request that the PTA send a representative to the board led to a subsequent election at which Duane Crooks of Springhill School was chosen as the representative.

It was announced that Joyce Jenkins of Springhill School and Lysle Osman of the Stanley School were candidates for positions on the California Teachers' Association State Council.

Local Student Flier Finishes Air School

Graduated from the U. S. Naval Pre-Flight School at Pensacola, Fla., recently was Navy Ens. Russell M. Blythe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Blythe of 3923 Highland Road, Lafayette.

He is a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy.

Local Folk Greet Kuchel Karavan

U.S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel toured Contra Costa County Saturday with a "Kuchel Karavan" of decorated cars, band truck, and sound trucks.

The caravan started in Kensington at 9 a.m. and wound up at Antioch at 5. The Senator was not able to join the caravan until 1:30, when he landed in Walnut Creek by helicopter.

On hand to meet him was Mayor E. C. "Ted" Counter of Walnut Creek. The motorcade then proceeded to the Broadway Shopping Center, where Gerald Brown and Mrs. Joan Chandler, Walnut Creek Area chairmen for Kuchel, had arranged a reception for the Senator.

Prior to his arrival in Walnut Creek, the Motorcade was met in Orinda by a contingent led by Max and Margaret Dunn, Orinda area chair chairmen for Kuchel, Glen Foster, Ken Anderson and George Ely driving a 1923 Rolls Royce from Lafayette.

Etta Hill, George and Marguerite Jackson, Wyman Taylor, Virla Krotz, James Hill, and Evie Hopper gave color to the motorcade throughout the day by their costumes and colorful attire.

Demos Raise 'Hi Spirits' For Party

High spirits and enthusiasm are predominating elements in the atmosphere surrounding local Democrats preparing to celebrate tomorrow night at a cocktail and supper party.

With fund raising and fun raising the two main goals of the evening, the affair, titled "Hi, Spirits!" will be held at the Orinda home of Emmarie Holmes, 4 Diablo View.

Guests will be entertained by the strolling serenaders, Los Tapacitos, well-known singers of south of the border folk music. Dancing and a late buffet supper featuring ham and turkey will also be a part of the party's agenda.

Among the many localites planning to attend "Hi, Spirits!" which begins at 8 p.m. are Messrs. and Mesdames Alan Gittelsohn, E. C. Phelps, Doug Page, Joseph Lorber, Cecil Asman, Patrick Sullivan, Bill Borowiak, Henry Zack, James Benney, Sid Kroff, Gerald Garb, Richard Nesbitt.

Irving Lieber, Neil Falconer, Paul Stumf, George Jonas, Walter Hambelton, Gene Thanner, A. Stadleman, K. Alexander and William McKee.

Labor Dinner Will Be Held for Quinney

A $15-a-plate Labor Dinner to support the candidacy of Dr. H. R. "Bob" Quinney, Democrat for Congress will be held Tuesday night, Herb Shoup of El Sobrante, president of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, announces. The dinner will be held in Richmond Civic Center's Bermuda Room, 3700 Nevin Avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

GOP Assembly Propositions Reviews 19

The 19 state propositions on the November 6 ballot were reviewed by the Central Contra Costa Republican Assembly at a meeting last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Knight in Walnut Creek.

Following the review, given by Bill Bolce, an informal poll of the membership gave a yes vote to 10 proposals, no to nine. Getting the nod were Propositions 1, 2, 4, 5, 8, 12, 13, 16, 17 and 19. Receiving the nays were Propositions 3, 6, 7, 9, 10, 11, 14, 15 and 17.

Sharing the program with the propositions was a discussion of the Contra Costa County sheriff's department by Undersheriff John Jaggard. Jaggard explained the organization and assignments of the sheriff's staff, and the problems caused by manpower shortage in the number of deputies available for the many responsibilities of the department.

Assembly President Gertrude Walker presided at the meeting, which was followed by refreshments.

Miller Reception

Over 400 friends of State Senator George Miller Jr. gathered last Sunday at a reception in his honor at the James F. Hoey ranch on Alhambra Valley Road, Martinez.

Buffet supper was served on a large patio area.

Baldwin Names Campaign Aides

Harmon Howard, of Walnut Creek, campaign chairman, for Congressman John Baldwin, said that prominent Democrats are serving in committees campaigning for Baldwin throughout Contra Costa and Solano Counties.

Democrats for Baldwin committee members in Walnut Creek indlude Mrs. James McAdams, Mrs. Thelma Bosler, Mrs. Irving Jensen and Chairman Bruce Lee.

In Lafayette, leaders of the Democrats for Baldwin group include E. H. Haase, Bernard T. Rocca, Jr., Jack Schneider, Mrs. George H. Finer, Mrs. William Scott, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Knobel, C. O. Nilsen, Stanley Soder, Newton Davis and Mrs. Ruth Wiseman.

Orinda Democrats enrolled in committees campaigning for Congressman Baldwin include Mrs. Norman Tuttle, Mrs. Basil L. Winslow and Mrs. Howard Lane.

Big Fish Wins Nielsen Derby

Duane Hibbard of San Bruno, landed a whopper striper with the aid of two boating companions and a small trout net, and captured first prize in the Mel Nielsen Bass Derby at Crockett last weekend.

Hibbard's striper was weighed in at 31 pounds, 11 ounces and was caught off Dillon's Point. It was snagged on light tackle and was the first bass Hibbard had ever caught.

Richard Fleming of Rodeo captured second prize in the politico-sporting event with a striper weighing 17 pounds, eight ounces, and Hipe Jurien, Crockett, newspaper distributor, captured third prize with only four ounces less.

Hundreds of Bay Area sportsmen participated in the derby in which 50 prizes, posted by Nielsen sponsors, were awarded. Hibbard's award was a famous name casting reel and tackle.

Benney, Gittelsohn Serve in Demo Drive

Attorney James Benney of Orinda will serve as the Stevenson-Kefauver chairman of Eastern Contra Costa County, it is announced by County Chairmen Julia Robinson of Kensington and Douglas Page of Walnut Creek and Pittsburg.

Appointment of Jay Gittelsohn of Richmond as Democratic small business chairman in Contra Costa County is announced today by Democratic Central Committee Chairman Richard Haber of Kensington.

Christian Science

How spiritual understanding of God's goodness overcomes evil will be brought out at services Sunday at Churches of Christ, Scientist, at 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" will include the following selection from "'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (571:15): "'At all times and under all circumstnaces, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil."

Among the passages to be read from the King James Version of the Bible is the following (Isa. 35:10):

"'And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away."

The Golden Text is from Lamentations (3:39,40): "Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord."

Chairman Tells How Wallace Was Nominated

Herman Sandkuhle, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Better Government, this week outlined the background that led to the nomination of C. R. Wallace as a candidate for supervisor of the 2nd District.

Sandkuhle said:

"This committee, which comprises more than 150 civic leaders, wanted a man with no business connection in this county. Long experience had shown that where a man was a businessman and a supervisor at the same time, either his job as supervisor suffered or his business suffered, and it was usually the former. Wallace has no business connections inside or outside the county. He, therefore, met our first qualification.

"WE THEN AGREED we should find a man willing and able to give full time to the job. We wanted a man who would have plenty of time to meet with us, to hear our problems and then be prepared to act with all the facts at hand. In Wallace we found just such a man. He is fully retired and has pledged himself to full-time service.

"We next agreed that the absence of conflicting interests and availability for full-time service alone were not enough. We wanted a man with demonstrated administrative ability. In Wallace we found a man who had proved himself an able administrator during an extended period of service in Washington, where he handled many important government contracts and received outstanding credit for the job he did.

"WALLACE DID NOT seek the job," Sandkuhle added. "We sought him. Wallace did not need the job, living as he does on a modest but adequate retirement income. The job needed him."

"People have said," Sandkuhle concluded, "that one supervisor out of five can't be expected to accomplish very much for the district when he goes to Martinez unless he is a pretty shrewd politician. Well, Wallace is no politician, but I wonder if anyone really thinks a man who has had 30 years of experience in the Marine Corps is likely to be pushed around by anybody?"

Demos Criticize Recent Mailings

In a statement released by the executive committee of the Danville Democrats, the officers of the club called it "an affront to the independent voters of the district to be subjected to mailing pieces and press releases by so-called 'Democrats for' the Republican incumbents."

It continued by stating that "this bald attempt to confuse the voters by masquerading as 'Democrtic Committees for the re-election' of the distreit's congressman will fail as did a similar attempt in behalf of the Republican senatorial incumbent last spring.

"We have never heard of Vincent Roldes, et al, who are purporting to speak as 'Democrats.' The gentleman from San Ramon who heads up this letterhead committee is not a member of the Danville Democrats; his organization is not chartered by the Democratic County Central Committee nor is it a member of the Democratic Federation of Clubs.

"We predict that his 'paper' club will disappear after November 6 as will the rest of the Republicrat leap-year liberals.

"Just as most Republicans will vote their straight ticket, Democrats will support their own candidates as nominated in the primary: Richard Richards for U.S. Senator, H. Roberts Quinney for congressman, and Russ Koch for assemblyman, on the ticket headed by Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver."

The statement concluded by saying that "this desperate maneuver shows that the Republicans are afraid of losing unless they can blind or confuse enough Democrats and Independents.

"Evidently they admit that campaigning on the issues alone will be insufficient to perpetuate them in office. We fail to recognize one individual as having ever done very much in behalf of any Democratic candidate in the past."

Officers of the Danville Democrats are Sidney Golman, president; John Saemann, vice president; Marna Stansberry, treasurer; Steuart Lausten, secretary.

Orinda 'Koffees' Boost Kuchel

Members of both the Republican and the Democratic parties have joined together at coffee hours of afternoon dessert parties in Orinda for Senator Thomas H. Kuchel during the past two weeks.

The Kuchel committee, headed in the county by Mrs. James Irwin, has spurred interest in the get-to-gethers. The committee has been publicizing the qualifications of the senator.

Short informative talks were given by Mrs. Max Dunn and Mrs. Robert Anthonisen, members of the Kuchel committee, at the gatherings.

Discussion by guests of both political parties was enjoyed and encouraged after the talks.

Hostess for the various "Koffees for Kuchel" were Mrs. William Wood, Mrs. Robert Anthonisen, Mrs. John T. Sullivan, Mrs. Arthur M. Flint and Mrs. Robert S. Hendrickson, all of Orinda.

A VOTE FOR PEDDER IS A VOTE AGAINST CONTRA COSTA POLITICAL BOSSES.

Lieutenant-Governor
POWERS

"I cannot conscientiously recommend a 'Yes' vote to the people on this highly technical and controversial measure ... Because of my familiarity with the many technical problems involved in providing the proper conservation of our oil and gas resources, I shall vote 'No' on Proposition 4." Lieutenant-Governor Harold J. Powers.

Attorney General

"I am going to vote against the proposition because it is, I believe, unwise to by-pass the legislative process in such a complex and controversial matter." Attorney General Edmund G. Brown.

Assemblyman
MILLER

"I believe in the theory and principle of conservation, but there are so many possible legal interpretations of many provisions of this measure, that I do not believe it should be fixed into law by the initiative method where it will not be amendable by the Legislature." Allen Miller, Chairman, the Assembly sub-committee on tidelands.

CALIFORNIA COMMITTEE OPPOSED TO OIL MONOPOLY
Los Angeles: 727 West 7th St. • San Francisco: 681 Market St.
W. H. Geis, Chairman

OPEN LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

We believe that your readers will be interested to know that the present Republican United States Senator, Thomas Kuchel, voted:

1. against censure of McCarthy
2. for the Bricker amendment (SJR 159)
3. against the Reciprocal Trade Program (S 2090)
4. to reduce funds for the Public Housing Administration (HR 4663) and soil conservation (HR 5227)
5. against amendments to increase funds for hospital construction and tuberculosis control (HR 5246).

IN EACH OF THE ABOVE CASES, KUCHEL VOTED AGAINST THE EXPRESSED DESIRES OF THE EISENHOWER ADMINISTRATION.

We believe that the people of the State of California should replace the incumbent United States Senator with RICHARD RICHARDS, who has shown, in the State Senate, that he votes with the people and not against them.

Very truly yours,
Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Powelson, Walnut Creek
Mr. and Mrs. John S. Glascock, Orinda
Mrs. Lyn McKee, Lafayette
Mr. Edward E. Clay, Pleasant Hill

THE WISE CHOICE
WALLACE
For 2nd District SUPERVISOR

Question: How is Wallace financially able to devote full time to the job of supervisor?
Answer: Wallace, being a retired Marine Corps general, has a retirement pay equal to that of the average school teacher. This modest income enables him to give his full time to this important job.

Question: Where does the money for Wallace's campaign come from?
Answer: In small amounts from people in all walks of life — homeowners, small businessmen — in short, just about anyone who is interested in better government. Additional contributions in any amount are vitally needed. Please send your donation directly to Citizens Committee for Better Government, 3596 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Lafayette, Calif.

Question: How old is General Wallace?
Answer: At 59, Wallace is a vigorous energetic executive with seasoned judgment, poise and years of experience in administrative work.

Question: Why is Wallace running for this office?
Answer: Wallace did not seek the job — he was sought out. The only eligible candidate who met all the requirements demanded by the Citizens Committee for Better Government, consisting of over 150 community leaders.
